OEO Will Probe Area TeenCamp Say Facility Used For Red Training

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) —The Office of Economic Opportunity says it is "actively investigating" reports that a camp near Poughkeepsie, attended by 100 youths from Newark, N.J., is a training ground for Communism.

A spokesman for the federal agency made that statement Friday after stories in the New York Daily News this week reported a "course on how to direct young radicals of the left into the Communist Party" had taken place at Camp Webatuck.

Began Aug. 29
According to the News' stories, the training course began Aug. 29, two days after the summer-camp session for children ended.

The children, all of elementary and junior high school age, were sent to camp by Newark's United Community Corps, which has received more than $27,000 in OEO funds.

C. Willard Heckel, Dean of the Rutgers Law School, and president of the corps, said Friday that all the information he has about the camp indicates "that the program is a healthy one, and provides a truly integrated racial experience for the children."

Facts Unknown
When asked about the allegations in the Daily News, Heckel said, "I have no idea if the activity described in the News is a separate activity."

A spokesman for the OEO said that organization "relies on the individual agencies as the sponsor of their programs," but that "we don't have a completely hands-off attitude."

He added that "we would like to know if subversive acts are going on."

Plans Are Made For Israel Bond Campaign in Area

Alfred D. Ronder and Herman G. Rafalowsky have been named as general co-chairmen by the 1966 Kingston Area State of Israel Bond Program. This was announced today by the Kingston State of Israel Bond Committee.

In accepting the chairmanship of the 18th anniversary program celebrating the CHAI Year (18th year) of the founding of the State of Israel, the chairmen said, "We are most pleased and proud to be able to serve Israel once more in a leadership capacity in our community. For Israel, the Israel Bond Program has meant giving a new head start in life for more than 1,300,000 immigrants who have found a new home there."

$91 Million Raised
The chairmen continued, "In 1965 a record-breaking total of $91,000,000 was realized from the sale of State of Israel Bonds. We are gratified that the Kingston community sold $60,000 in bonds last year, also a record-breaking total. The year 1966 has, as its goal in Israel Bonds, $105,000,000. This high total is necessitated because of the loss of an average of $65,000,000 per year as a result of the end of West German reparations to Israel."

"The main projects needing

Guardsmen Ordered to Scene Of Cicero Civil Rights March

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — Officials of this tense all-white suburb of Chicago have received assurance from Gov. Otto Kerner that 2,000 National Guardsmen will be on hand Sunday when civil rights marchers stage a protest march.

Kerner, acting Friday on a request from Cicero and Cook County officials, activated the guardsmen, who are to be joined by local, county and state police.

Expected 400 to 600

Robert Lucas, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality and a leader of the march, said he expects 400 to 600 persons to take part.

Fifteen years ago, three days of rioting resulted when a Negro family tried to move into an apartment in Cicero.

William H. Morris, head of the Illinois state police, said that 375 state police will guard the border between Chicago and Cicero while Cicero police line the parade route.

Police from neighboring Berwyn will take over the ordinary duties of the 90-man Cicero police.

Telethon Starts Sunday at 10 P.M. For MD Benefit

A 19-hour telethon for the benefit of the victim of muscular dystrophy will start Sunday 10 p. m. on TV channel 5, according to Hugh Greer, vice president of Ulster County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy.

Jerry Lewis, stage, screen and TV personality will conduct the show. There will be volunteer phone operators at Rondout National Bank to take pledges for donations from area residents. Those wishing to make contributions may also call any of the numbers shown on the TV screen.

All funds collected in the Ulster County area will be credited to the local chapter. At the present time there are five victims of this disease which the chapter is helping.

Greer feels confident that the

Disappointed

"I express my deep disappointment that the march leadership has ignored appeals to cancel or postpone their demonstration. I sincerely hope that continuing appeals based on concern for the safety for their fellow citizens moves the leadership at this, the 11th hour."

Christy Berkos, Cicero town attorney, said he issued a permit for the march because, he knew the marchers would proceed without it and he wanted to avoid violence.

72 Are Killed in Highway Crashes as Holiday Starts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Millions of Americans headed for the highways today, the last weekend holiday of summer, with an appeal from President

Johnson and public officials to "drive responsibly."

Toll Is Below Normal

Deaths in traffic accidents in the early hours of the 78-hour holiday period appeared running below normal. The count, which started at 6 p. m. local time Friday, showed 72 persons had been killed in traffic mishaps, including 7 in Texas.

But the National Safety Council estimated from 530 to 630 persons may lose their lives at the end of the extended holiday at midnight Monday. The record death toll for a Labor Day holiday period is 563, set last year.

AP Reports Record Toll

A survey by The Associated Press for a 78-hour non-holiday weekend, from 6 p. m. Friday, Aug. 19 to midnight Monday, Aug. 22, showed 505 deaths on the highway.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said at least 200 lives might be saved during the weekend if all drivers refrain from immoderate drinking.

Traffic fatalities up to Aug. 1 were 8 per cent higher than last year, the council said. The toll of 5,130 in July was a record for any single month.

The council also reported that record death tolls were set this year during three major holiday periods of 78 hours. They were 564 New Years; 542 Memorial Day, and 576 Independence Day. The record toll for any holiday period is 720, set in the three-day Christmas weekend of 1965.

Another break-in was being investigated by Constable Bowers on Springtown Road near the James Hicks residence.

Mrs. Henry G. Bagley Jr. of Tillson reported that someone had broken into her home and stolen some quarters that she had been saving in a dish in her kitchen. Mrs. Bagley said she didn't know the exact amount of the missing money.

Report 2 More U.S. Jets Lost in Bombing Raids On Enemy Supply Routes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military headquarters said today two more American planes were shot down over North Viet Nam during raids on the main supply and infiltration routes to the south.

Rainstorms again curtailed U.S. air blows against the north and an elusive enemy in the south reduced allied ground action once more to small skirmishes.

Hit Cong Base

High-altitude B52 bombers, flying above the foul weather, dropped tons of explosives at noon today on a Viet Cong base camp and training area close to the Cambodian border. The bombers hit at much-battered War Zone C 70 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province.

The losses of the latest two planes raised to 337 the number of American warplanes to go down in action over North Viet Nam.

One plane was a Navy A1 Skyraider from the aircraft carrier Intrepid which was shot down 40 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Valley. The other was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief which went down 40 miles north of the same coastal city.

The pilots of both planes were rescued.

96 Missions

In air raids over North Viet Nam Friday, American pilots flew 96 missions, all concentrated in the southern panhandle as thunderstorms prevented strikes in the Hanoi-Hiphong areas and the Red River Valley.

Air Force planes attacked main supply Route 101 and a U.S. spokesman said they cut the road in 11 places within a 20-mile section.

In other air action Friday three flights of B52 jet bombers pounded suspected enemy (Continued on Page 19, Col. 4)

LBJ Cites Great Need For Water Bids for Votes In Eastern Tour

SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — President Johnson, ranging far afield from the November elections, told West Virginians today the world soon will face a choice between war or ample stocks of pure water.

The occasion was the dedication here of a $46-million flood control dam — the largest earth-and-rock structure of its kind east of the Mississippi.

Growing Fast

In a speech prepared for the occasion, Johnson said the world's need for pure water is growing so fast "that we are in a race with disaster."

If people fail to meet the challenge, he said, "I can assure you that not even America's unprecedented military might will be able to preserve the peace for long."

It was another campaign season weekend for Johnson. He scheduled stops today in Pennsylvania (Continued on Page 19, Col. 3)

W-J-T Papers Reach New Accord With Two Unions

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Journal Tribune reached tentative contract agreements with two more newspaper unions early today, reinforcing hopes that the new daily and Sunday paper would reach the newsmen shortly.

A spokesman for the publishers announced settlement with the drivers and mailers unions at 4 a. m. after more than 11 hours of continuous bargaining. The terms were not made public.

On 132nd Day

The accords came on the 132nd day of the labor dispute that has blocked publication of the merged paper.

Matt Meyer, president of the World Journal Tribune, said, "We would hope to be able to start publication Monday, Sept. 12, depending on our being able to make satisfactory arrangements with the other unions this weekend."

Meetings were scheduled over the Labor Day holiday with the five unions still without contracts — the New York Newspaper Guild, the photoengravers, the paper handlers, the machinists and the electricians.

The merged paper had previously come to terms with the stereotypers, printers and pressmen's unions.

Born of Consolidation

The World Journal Tribune was born of the April consolidation of the Journal American, the Herald Tribune and the World Telegram & Sun.

The publishers closed the Tribune Aug. 15. It was to have been the morning companion to the corporation's afternoon and Sunday editions.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODIE ISHMAEL

Elijah is one of the most forceful prophets of the Old Testament. He lived at a time when the pagan gods of Ba'al were introduced into Israel by Jezebel, King Ahab's Phoenician wife. Elijah's faith and way of life was threatened by developments in Ahab's court. It was an age of violence and Elijah used all the violence and miraculous acts of his command to restore God's way throughout Israel. It was the only way he could sustain his faith. The story of his supreme triumph over the priest of Ba'al at Mount Carmel (I Kings 18), the ravens feeding him by the brook Cherith (I Kings 17:1-6), bringing the widow's dead son back to life (I Kings 17:17-24), and at the end of his life being taken up in a whirlwind to heaven (II Kings 2:11) are all stories of the constancy of his faith. The ancient stories, from that ancient time, of this lonely yet imposing man can be summed up in his prayer to God on Mount Carmel, "Hear me, O Lord, hear me that this people may know that Thou art the Lord God and that Thou hast turned their hearts back again." (I Kings 18:37).

Your Life and Mine

CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

Here We Are Again

It is a well known fact that super-highways, while they do make for a speedier getting about from one place to another, tend to be monotonous. One mile looks about the same as the next. This presents a psychological hazard that often is the cause of accidents. And the chain restaurants, each built after the same floor plan, enhance the problem. If one is traveling quite a distance, stopping to eat at these places, it is a bit difficult sometimes to get one's bearings.

Dorothy DeCamp has told about a family traveling on a turnpike that ate breakfast, lunch and dinner in three almost identical restaurants. As they walked into the one for their evening meal, some 500 miles from the one in which they had breakfasted, their four-year-old explained in bewilderment: "We've been travelling all day, and here we are again."

Life is made up of repetitions. Much of it is routine. Everyone knows that work can become very monotonous. We get fed up with sameness — "the old grind," as we sometimes call it. The monotony connected with daily toil often gets us down. That is why we have vacations. But if work gets monotonous, so does rest and freedom from the demands of our work-a-day tasks. I know some men who cannot bear the thought of retirement. They are fearful lest they may not be able to cope with the problem of the recurring days when no demands are being made of them to perform their work.

This problem of monotony, of traveling all day and seeming to get nowhere, is not a new one. The writer of the book of Ecclesiastes struggled with it. "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity," he complained. "There is no new thing under the sun." What can we say helpfully about this problem. Well, we can say that we can, and should, accept graciously the fact that the routines are inescapable — for they are part and parcel of life. Rebelling against the very nature of life itself will get us nowhere. It is not within our power to change the pattern which God has established.

Then, besides graciously accepting the fact that life is made up largely of routines, we need to have some reason for living that transcends the routines — and that gives meaning and purpose to our days as they unfold. Jesus lived to help others. He never complained about the empty routines. He did not get caught in the meshes of monotony. Life for Him had an aura of eternal meaning about it.

No fact is better authenticated by the record of human lives than that when we go out of our way to help someone who needs a kindness we can show — by some miracle that day of life seems important. It is the days we squander selfishly on ourselves, with little thought of others and their plight, which seem so empty and so grudgingly monotonous.

George Eliot has stated the great challenge of life in these noble lines. So to live that — "Every soul that touches yours — Be it the slightest contact — Gets therefrom some good; Some little grace; one kindly thought; One aspiration yet unmet; One bit of courage For the darkening sky; One gleam of faith To brave the thickening ills of life; One glimpse of brighter skies — To make this life worth while And heaven a surer heritage."

MSGR. RICHARD B. CURTIN

Rosendale Pastor Named to College Alumni Council

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Richard B. Curtin, new pastor of the Church of St. Peter in Rosendale, is among 24 Manhattan College alumni appointed to the newly-formed Alumni Advisory Council on Planning and Development at the Riverdale Institution.

In announcing Msgr. Curtin's selection to the council's alumni relations committee, Brother Gregory, FSC, president of Manhattan, noted that the college's central purpose in establishing the council is to insure total communication with alumni representatives, and to broaden alumni participation in shaping and implementing policies and programs specifically relating to the responsibilities of the vice president for planning and development.

The founding of the council marks the first time in Manhattan's 114-year history that a permanent body of advisors — made up exclusively of alumni — has been given formal status within the framework of the official administrative organization of the college itself.

Came Here in June
Ordained in 1942, Msgr. Curtin received his new assignment at St. Peter's in June, succeeding the Rev. Msgr. Vincent de Paul Mulry. Msgr. Mulry was named pastor emeritus of the parish.

Msgr. Curtin had been director of the Commission on Church Music for the Archdiocese of New York since April, 1957. He simultaneously served as a professor of church music at St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie, where he had been director of music since 1946.

Prior to his assignment at St. Joseph's, Msgr. Curtin served at St. Catherine's Church, Blauvelt, St. Joseph's Church, Bronxville, and Holy Cross Church and St. Joseph's Church, both in Manhattan.

Studied in Rome
Msgr. Curtin received a BA degree in philosophy and classical languages in 1937 from Manhattan. He studied at the Juilliard School of Music and New York University's Graduate School of Fine Arts before receiving a OGL in 1951 from the Pontificio Instituto di Musica Sacra in Rome, Italy. He is vice president of the Consociatio Internationalis Musicae Sacrae.

The 50-year-old pastor was elevated to the rank of Papal Chamberlain with the title of the Very Reverend Monsignor in June, 1960. On March 20, 1964, Msgr. Curtin was appointed a member of the Liturgical Commission in 1965, he received church honors again when he was elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate with the title of the Right Reverend Monsignor.

Pigeon Problems
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's a hush-hush exile in progress for San Francisco's pigeons.

The city has too many of them. Officials said recently there was a state of emergency that called for something drastic — like killing them.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals rushed into action. So far, at a cost of around $1,000, it has exiled 2,000 pigeons.

Trapped in baited cages, they are being sent away to the ranches of SPCA friends.

"We have decided not to tell anybody where we are sending the pigeons," said G.C. Willis, the SPCA assistant secretary.

Some friends of the pigeons are sabotaging the traps.

Norman Mally, of a Los Angeles firm supplying some of the trappers, said of the saboteurs: "I'll go along with goofy characters for a time, but there's a limit to everything."

One pigeon lover was seen climbing a roof on Hyde Street to get at a trap.

"If we catch any of these people in the act," Mally warned, "we'll drag 'em off to the police station by the hair."

Fire Worshipers Make Up Some of India's Leaders

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Descendants of a small, close-knit band of fire worshipers who sought refuge in India 1,200 years ago, include some of India's leading businessmen, politicians and civic workers.

They are members of the Parsi sect, believed to number about 115,000 throughout the world, with the major body of at least 75,000 in Bombay.

Their forefathers migrated to India from Persia in the year 706 A.D., following the conquest of their country by Moslems. Parsis—also spelled Parsees—are followers of Zoroaster, founder of the original Persian religion. They believe in after-life and the ultimate victory of good over evil. Their temples house sacred perpetual flames, kept alive with offerings of aromatic sandalwood.

Include Nations Leaders

Prominent among present-day Parsis are the Tatas, who started India's first textile mill and now are national leaders in textiles, steel, nuclear research and scores of other fields. An air service started as a Tata subsidiary later became Air India, the country's international airline.

Other Parsis include M. R. Masani, prominent member of Parliament, and K.R.P. Shroff, who retired this year as president of the Bombay Stock Exchange.

George Gandhi, late husband of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, was a Parsi; and Parsi Dhadabhai Nadorji was the first Indian member of the British Parliament.

To the outsider, the Parsis are perhaps best known for their "Tower of Silence," an imposing mountain-top structure in Bombay where the Parsi dead are taken. Aside from its beautifully landscaped gardens and iron gates which keep out non-believers, the tower is distinguished by an ever-present flock of vultures soaring overhead.

Strange Burial Plan

The tower has walls 18 feet tall surrounding a circular concrete platform 300 feet in circumference and with a deep opening in the center. The platform has three rows for bodies, the outer one for men, middle for women and center for children.

After the vultures strip the flesh and the bones disintegrate, rainwater washes the dust into the center shaft and then into four underground drains leading to four deep wells. Charcoal and sandstone in the drains purify the water before it reaches the wells.

"In the old days, a body was taken to the highest hill and left to be 'burned' by the sun," says Rustum K. Masani, noted Parsi author, in explaining how the Tower of Silence fits in with the Parsi fire worship.

Masani emphasizes the living aspects of the Parsi religion. In fact, he says, "The religion of the 'good life'."

"We have no penance, no fasting, we are concerned only with building our character. Most of the charitable institutions in Bombay were founded by Parsis."

Area Methodists Will Fete New District Leader

St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl Street, will host a reception for the newly appointed superintendent of Hudson-North District of the Methodist Church 2 to 5 p. m. Sept. 11.

The Rev. Dr. Wesley D. Osborne, his wife and daughter will be present to meet ministers, wives and laymen of the district which is comprised of 100 area churches.

Ministers of the district and the board of lay activities are sponsoring the event. Among those directing arrangements are Philip Chien of Hobart, lay leader; Mrs. Fred Yoh, Highland, district WSCS president; the Rev. C. L. McFarland, pastor of the Port Ewen Methodist Church; the Rev. Lloyd Gilmour, pastor of the Greenkill Methodist Church; the Rev. Philip Geheres, pastor of Hobart Methodist Church and the host pastor, the Rev. C. Pershing Hunter.

The Rev. Dr. Osborne was appointed district superintendent at the annual session of the New York Methodist Conference earlier this year in Bridgeport, Conn. He replaces the Rev. George P. Werner, who served the district for six terms. The Osborne family resides at the parsonage, 220 Albany Avenue, this city.

Cancel Balloon Flight

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Scientists ordered a balloon flight terminated Friday after a telescope intended for a close look at an exploded star scraped the ground at lift-off.

The mishap broke an antenna and scientists at the National Center for Atmospheric Research received no data from the gamma ray telescope as it swung from its 55-story-tall balloon.

The flight, fourth in a series to study the Crab nebula, was brought down near Waco. It had been delayed two weeks by bad weather.

Order Malverne Board To Integrate Schools

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — In a strongly worded statement, State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. has ordered the Malverne School Board to integrate its schools by next Wednesday.

The commissioner's action Friday came in reply to a letter he had received from Malverne's Board president, Charles W. Reardon.

Reardon's telephone was out of order Friday night and he could not be reached at his home on Long Island.

A spokesman for the school board said, however, that he was puzzled by the tone of Allen's letter to Reardon. The spokesman said that Allen was notified Aug. 10 that Malverne was implementing the commissioner's plan for racial balance in the district's three elementary schools.

In his letter to Allen, Reardon wrote that the board still was in disagreement with the commissioner over the methods of eliminating racial imbalance.

The matter has been debated hotly since Allen issued his historic racial-imbalance criteria more than three years ago.

In the letter, Reardon also refused $51,200 the State Education Department had offered the district to aid in transporting public school pupils away from their neighborhood schools in order to achieve racial balance.

Allen has said that no school enrollment should be more than 50 per cent Negro.

In his reply to Reardon, Allen wrote:

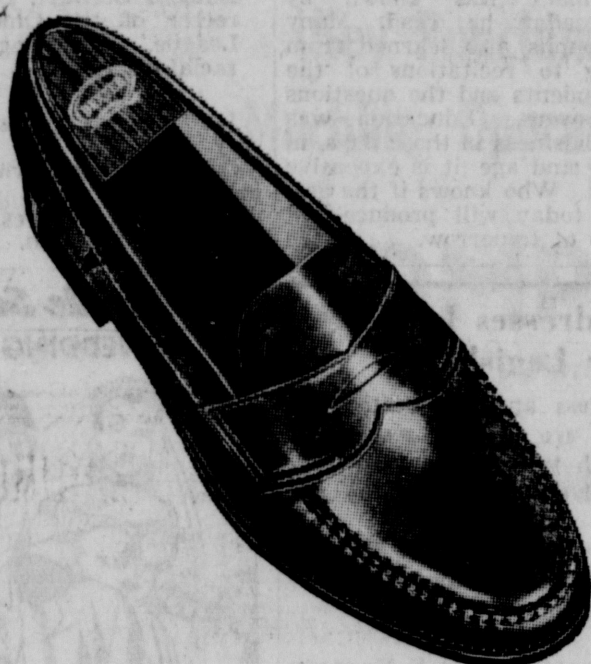

"I do not intend to reiterate the background... with which you are completely familiar... The matter has been completely reviewed by all the courts of this state and the federal courts and the order upheld on every occasion."

"There is no excuse now, after all these many months, why your board should not be ready to comply with the order."

The commissioner also wrote that "...under the mandate of my direction and that of the various courts, your board is required to see to it that the order is complied with" when the school term begins.

LABOR AT THE CROSSROADS

Heavy thinking about the economy is probably the last thing most Americans will want to indulge in as they enjoy this holiday.

Strikes, price increases, the rising cost of food, taxes, national debt—all these are worries we would like to forget, if only for one day.

But the name of the day is, after all, Labor Day, and though it was originally set aside to honor the blue-collar workingman, it is upon the labor of all of us that the strength and health of the economy is based, whether we work in shop or office or on the land.

The problems and needs of "labor" are the problems and needs of the whole nation.

We are not, fortunately, going through a season of widespread labor-management discord. One recent strike, however, grounded 60 per cent of the nation's commercial airplanes for weeks. Another, almost forgotten, continues to stall the presses of three newspapers in New York, who have been attempting to merge into one, The World Journal Tribune, for months.

The inability to settle these disputes in reasonable time through the customary machinery of arbitration raises fundamental questions about that machinery itself.

Is free bargaining between employee and employer no longer a satisfactory procedure? Should the government take a more active role? Do we need something like a Court of Labor-Management Relations whose decisions in each dispute would be binding on all parties?

There are some who say the government should keep out of strikes that, left alone, the airlines and machinist would long before have reached a settlement.

Yet no settlement today can be made in isolation from the rest of the economy. No government can govern effectively or responsibly if it has no control over wages and prices, even if it is only in the form of persuasive mediation and the setting up of guidelines.

Others argue that the right of labor to organize and to strike, as hard-won and necessary as that right was 30 years ago, has grown out of all proportion to the right of management to run its business efficiently. This feeling is especially acute when a walkout affects the rights of the general public.

Today, says business writer Henry Hazlitt, "a single labor union, until its demands are met, can halt the country's railroads, tie up its shipping, shut down its steel mills, silence the newspapers of a great city, walk out on patients suffering or dying in hospitals, ground 60 per cent of the nation's airlines, and prevent others from taking the jobs that its own members have refused to perform. The public must stand by helpless."

This is a serious indictment against the union movement. It is also a telling charge against our way of doing things, for in many cases workers have felt they had no other choice but to shut down mills or walk out of hospitals.

President and Congress also stand in the defendant's box. It is fine when the government speeds up a lagging economy through deficit spending, as it has demonstrated it can do quite handily.

But when that speed becomes too great, when prices soar and buying power shrinks, can worker or employer, factory owner or factory hand, be blamed for trying to keep up with the pace when the federal government lacks the will to put the brakes on its own high living?

Answers are urgently needed to these questions. Some of the answers must be forthcoming before another year passes and before we pause again to observe another Labor Day.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

Few people will quarrel with the objectives of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, which are, very simply, to get Americans to be more physically active and thus more physically fit. One trip to the beach or swimming pool will convince you

Global View

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA) — The purge of top officials in Mao Tse-tung's China and President Tito's Yugoslavia continues unabated.

Almost 50 years after Lenin established his dictatorship in Russia as a model for other Communist countries, the revolution is still devouring its creators.

To be sure, neither in Russia nor in Yugoslavia—nor even in China—do the purges follow Stalin's bloody pattern. Only rarely are disgraced Communists executed these days. They are usually exiled or given minor jobs. Some, like Russia's premier, Nikita Khrushchev, are even retired with generous pensions.

But they must all disappear as "unpersons." Even the purges are now carried out for different reasons in different Communist countries.

For instance, who is currently purging whom—and why—in China and Yugoslavia?

In China it is the moderate "revisionists" who apparently dared to oppose Mao's policy of extremism and revolutionary brinkmanship who are under attack. They include Communist bureaucrats who were active in the fields of literature, philosophy, education, history and journalism.

Some, like Peking's former popular mayor, Peng Chen, were even high-ranking Communist party officials.

They are charged by Mao's henchmen with having favored Moscow's and Tito's revisionist heresy. They are even reported to have favored a negotiated peace settlement of the war in Viet Nam.

But in Yugoslavia, on the contrary, it is the moderates who are purging the "dogmatic Stalinists" who, like Mao Tse-tung, advocate a die-hard communism.

Yugoslavia's President Tito is hardly a liberal. He is a convinced Marxist-Leninist despite his minor "liberal" reforms. He still keeps Milovan Djilas in prison for writing an anti-Communist book. He just arrested the young writer Mihajlo Mihajlov, presumably because he planned to launch an opposition journal.

Yet it is nevertheless true that Tito, in recent years, has been steering Yugoslavia toward a more moderate course.

He aimed to make communism less rigorous and oppressive and to give the ordinary Yugoslav a bit more freedom.

However, the aging (74) Tito discovered recently that his best friend Aleksandr Rankovic, former vice president and chief of police, was conspiring to seize power.

In Belgrade, as in Peking, the struggle for power began while the dictator was still alive.

It has been a tragic aspect of Yugoslavia's deeper interpretation of Marxism-Leninism have developed that ideological differences over the turned into a quarrel among Serbs, Croats, Slovenes and other religious and ethnic groups.

Thus, Rankovic and his fellow conspirators presented themselves not only as champions of Serbian nationalism. Their conspiracy, as Tito himself said, "resembled Stalin's time."

It is now clear that Rankovic had less support than he expected, even among Serbs. Tito was able to crush his plot without difficulty and Rankovic, though still alive, has already become an unperson.

For the present at least, Mao Tse-tung in China and Tito in Yugoslavia are the victors. But their purges emphasize again that the Red monolith that Stalin once ruled with an iron hand is crumbling.

Your Dental Health

'Short-Circuit' Sometimes Thwarts Oral Anesthetic

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Dr. Lawrence: Last time I went to the dentist he froze the right side of my lower jaw. Everything was numb, including my lip, but when he drilled I felt it in my upper teeth.

A—The true nature of anesthesia is not easily explained and this is one of its strange phenomena. It rarely happens, but you can see how it might, since both upper and lower teeth and jaws are supplied by branches of one main nerve (one on each side of jaw).

When "novocain" is injected around a nerve, stabilization of nerve membrane occurs. From point of injection to end of nerve, all tissue supplied by that nerve is "frozen." Apparently no sensation is transmitted from this frozen area. If any messages are sent to the brain, they are not consciously recorded.

In this particular case, a message, even though slightly garbled, was getting through and the brain was sending it back along another branch of the same nerve.

Dear Dr. Lawrence: When a nerve is taken out, why does the tooth get dark?

With modern techniques, teeth don't usually stain after nerves are removed. Dentists who specialize in this work say that major reasons for staining are often poor technique and poor choice of filling material.

Most staining occurs long before root canal therapy is ever begun. This discoloration is often the first sign that a tooth needs treatment. It's usually due to hemorrhage of blood into the tiny dental tubules as happens when a tooth gets bumped, or otherwise traumatized.

When root canal therapy is completed, some of this discolored dentin can be removed and the tooth whitened with bleaching agents.

Of course, all so-called dead teeth have a characteristic opaque look. They just aren't as lustrous as vital teeth.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

of the overwhelming logic behind such a program.

Conviction, though does not always lead to action and that is why the Presidential Physical Fitness Award program is particularly timely. For the many youngsters who display a distressing tendency toward obesity and lack of stamina, it provides a powerful incentive to literally "get moving."

President Johnson announced the awards program last winter and it was introduced in many of the nation's schools last spring. Boys and girls aged 10 through 17 years are eligible for the award, which consists of a certificate bearing the Presidential seal and signature, plus an attractive embroidered emblem. To qualify they must make superior scores on the seven-item Youth Fitness Test, which measures strength, stamina, speed, agility and coordination. Events include the 600-yard run-walk, shuttle run, pull-ups, sit-ups, standing broad jump, 50-yard dash, softball throw. Competition is with boys and girls the same age.

The program encourages youngsters to develop and maintain a high level of fitness by offering them visibility and high-level recognition. Every youngster who improves his fitness will be a winner, whether or not he qualifies for the award.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Rumblings among responsible

Negro leaders suggest that they regard Stokely Carmichael, the young black segregationist who heads the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, as the worst drawback to their cause in years.

In fiery utterances just within the past six weeks, Carmichael has:

Threatened to "disrupt the whole country" if even one Negro is arrested by a white policeman on any charge whatsoever, called for the "burning down" of Washington if home rule is not quickly voted, exhorted Harlem Negroes to shout "Hell, no" to federal efforts to draft or recruit substandard Negro youths for the army, declared that Negroes should take the law in their own hands if the slayer of one escapes prosecution.

Among the responsibilities in the Negro leadership, Carmichael is most often described as an "irresponsible juvenile" who really does "not understand what he is talking about." None thinks he can bring off any of the massive retaliations against the white community which he constantly threatens.

The distress in the real Negro establishment is nevertheless great. Leaders believe his inflammatory talk incites disturbances among frustrated elements which should be kept calm—and offered instead huge and sobering doses of aid in getting jobs, better housing and improved schools.

The responsibilities fear that the young West Indian's clamor for "black power" is gravely distorting the nation's image of the Negro revolution—which they want to be tough, relentless, but constructive.

Leaders like Roy Wilkins of the NAACP, Whitney Young of the Urban League, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and A. Philip Randolph believe white good will and co-operation are pivotal factors in any substantial upturning in the Negro's general fortunes.

Many see Carmichael's black racism as driving off the whites and tending to dry up vital sources of financial and other assistance.

What galls them most is that they do not believe he represents any constructive element in Negro society or that he and SNICK have any sort of program to offer.

One respected southern Negro activist says:

"Stokely has no following and no program... His attempt to glamorize the ghetto I don't understand. I don't understand him. We can't win the kind of (black power) battle he talks about."

This southerner contends that SNICK's once very active efforts at Negro voter registration have been largely abandoned, that there is no longer clear evidence it is doing useful work in any field.

Leaders disagree widely on the number of active SNICK people still in the field, with estimates ranging from a high of 2,000 to less than 200 truly dependable workers.

Visits to ghettos in Washington persuade some Negroes that Carmichael is virtually unknown there. Polls indicate the same is true country-wide.

Yet, conversely, one experienced Negro observer sees him as to a great degree a creature of television. His provocative shouts have drawn the cameras in great clusters. Only Dr. King had more television exposure, Carmichael's leadership dates from just this spring.

Blamed also by this source are, of course, the revolutionary times and, particularly at neighborhood level, the silence, inaction and seeming timidity of responsible leaders.

In Harlem and elsewhere, West Indians are noted for extremist clamor. For years only a handful listened. But in the turbulence of today, the electronic eye and ear are upon the wild ones like Carmichael. Responsible U. S. Negroes wish the world had never heard of him.

When it comes to little old schoolhouses, I guess we are lucky that the ladies of Kripplish were able to save, preserve, and make a school museum out of their building, which I hope to see one of these days. Those were the days, when beautiful handwriting was a must and spelling bees were popular and arithmetic was done with pencil and in the head, not by machine as it is done today. Now they are coming out with a "new arithmetic" which I haven't seen yet.

Tiny tots who live near stores learn the meaning of a penny as soon as they can talk, as they "shop" daily for a penny candy. They also find that four cents will not get one a nickel candy bar. Many of them also know to always ask, "Any change?" That is the way we all learned years ago.

This magazine has an illustrated article on Rural Schooling in the horse and buggy era, by Halsey L. McLeod. He learned reading from McGuffey's Reader. He tells about his red schoolhouse, which later was painted white, and then the white had flaked away, leaving it red and weatherworn. He found his initials still carved in the clapboard siding. The little house was on a hillside with bushes and berry briars below, and a clay playground. The coal shed was there and restocked in the summer by some farmer who owned a small mine within hauling distance by horses or oxen and awarded the contract. Those were the days before cigarettes so the boys chewed tobacco, and had pipes and stogies. Every generation has his own way of creating work for go-gooders.

Boys hunted pine knots and split kindling wood which they stored under the schoolhouse for starting the school stove. Hot coals would be covered with ashes, when the school day ended, hoping the fire would be alive the next morning. There was always a boy in the class who was a good fire builder, for these chores some schools paid a little, which went toward school clothes. The benches and tables were usually made by rural craftsmen of local wood and children with and without talent carved into them. Later came city school desks. There was a metal wash basin, a water bucket and community soap and towel, with a tin cup close by. The water was carried from a nearby well, some 50 yards away. In case of dry weather, it was carried from a spring over the hill, McLeod wrote.

Nothing came easy and everything nature provided and labor donated was enjoyed and appreciated and stood well in bringing up children into adulthood, in the joy of doing for them.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The ugly word "depression" cropped up during the week in speculation about the national economy.

Until now, "recession" was the strongest word used by economists and government officials who were apprehensive about the outlook.

Gives Warning
In a rare public statement, former President Harry S. Truman warned that spiraling interest rates could result in serious depression.

Since last December, the Federal Reserve Board has boosted the prime interest rate charged to bank's best and biggest customers to 6 per cent from 4.5 per cent.

"We are told," Truman said, "that this—Federal Reserve Board—action was necessary to forestall inflation. What is more likely to happen is that we will bring on a precipitous deflation if we persist in high interest rates. The result could be a serious depression."

He added that, "We know from long experience that a drastic rise in interest rates works a hardship on the consuming public. It only benefits the privileged few."

President John F. Kennedy replied that he could not agree with Truman.

Also Concerned
"As I have said in December, and have repeated several times since, I too am concerned about the interest rate rise and what it means to many Americans," he said.

"However, I cannot agree with President Truman that our economy is in danger of recession or depression."

"The tightness of money mainly reflects the extreme buoyancy of our economy and the resulting very sharp rise in the demand for credit. These are symptoms of strength, not weakness."

In Congress, some members leaned toward tax changes and other steps that might lower interest rates.

However, unless support is forthcoming from the administration, chances of enactment seemed meager.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chairman of the Finance Committee offered his plan for an indefinite suspension of the tax credit of up to 7 per cent for new business investment.

Termed Bonanza
He said the credit is providing a "great bonanza" to wealthy corporations that can easily obtain bank loans at the expense of "the poor and the working people generally" in a tight money market.

Archie Davis, president of the American Bankers Association, said if interest rates continue to climb "there will be some serious dislocations in our economy."

"Congress must set the tone by recognizing the inflationary forces at work and must impose discipline on itself—cut down expenditures not related to the war effort," he added.

"If we continue to rely on a tight money policy, other things will slow down. Carried to the ultimate end, this is bound to slow down the economy from its present level."

High interest rates, along with other old problems, continued to have an adverse effect on the market early in the week. Stock prices dropped sharply Monday in the steady decline since the market reached its all-time high last February.

Market Rebounds
Then the market rebounded strongly. Wall Street was heartened in the hope that the worst was over. However, many analysts termed the advance a technical recovery and cautioned that the familiar worries still were overhanging the market.

F. W. Dodge Co., a specialist in construction industry statistics, reported that total contracts for future construction work awarded in July totaled $4,773,598,000, almost unchanged from a year earlier. A 25 per cent drop in residential construction contracts was almost entirely offset by gains in most kinds of nonresidential building.

New orders received by manufacturers in July dipped to $45.56 billion from $45.83 billion in June. Shipments climbed to $44.4 billion from $44.13 billion.

Automobile production during the week doubled to an estimated 101,300 passenger cars as the automakers boosted 1967 model output. This compared with 48,910 the previous week and 55,925 a year ago.

Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler Corp., estimated that car sales in 1966 would total 9.1 million, down 200,000 from 1965. Steel production rose 2.4 per cent during the week to 2.56 million tons from 2,501,000 tons the previous week.

Ghost of Sewers In Memphis Ends Stay in Hideout

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy who periodically roamed city sewers during the past two years posed a perplexing problem for Juvenile Court officials today.

"There's simply no place for a kid like this to go," said probation officer Frank McCroskey. "This boy has roamed the sewers for as much as a month at a time."

The youngster, nicknamed the "Phantom of the Sewers" by police, has been in and out of Juvenile Court since 1960. After his last brush with authorities last week, he was sent for a psychiatric check.

McCroskey said the youth has no place to go once he is released.

"Nobody wants this boy," he said.

Consequently, the officer said, the boy turned to sewers for refuge.

In his sutteranean hideout, explained Claude Pearson, chief probation officer, "the boy felt psychologically as well as physically secure."

Described as "mentally disturbed," the unidentified boy lives with an elderly grandmother. Officers said his parents, now divorced, apparently were unable to care for him.

McCroskey said the boy provided for his meagre existence by petty thefts.

"His operation was small but frequent — stealing a transistor radio, then selling it for a quarter," McCroskey said.

"Police couldn't catch him. The sewers are mapped in his head. He would stash the day's catch in a sewer, then eat, sleep, play games down there. The neighborhood was in an uproar. He had watching posts to spot squad cars. Other kids would tip him off and bring him food."

"At times the police were able to ambush him when he came out," McCroskey said. "Then, about every agency in the city would get the kid. Eventually he would get back to us. What can we do — send him to reform school? He's mentally sick — not bad."

College Official Drowned in Mishap

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—The 25-year-old assistant dean and director of housing at Hobart College drowned Friday when a 12-foot sailboat overturned and sank in Seneca Lake, about three miles south of Geneva, during a squall.

He was L. Dan Keating, a Geneva resident and a native of Vinton, N.J. His body was not recovered.

Keating's companion, Robert McCameron, 25, of Rochester, a Geneva Times reporter, told fellow newsmen he and Keating began swimming the 1,000 yards to shore when the boat sank.

Soon after, he said, Keating dropped below the surface and did not reappear.

Roosevelt Plans To Meet Liberal Leaders Thursday

NEW YORK (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. says Democrats have made indirect attempts to dissuade him from accepting the Liberal party's gubernatorial nomination — if he is offered it.

"Approaches were made," Roosevelt said Friday, "but not directly — just via indirect messages."

Pressed by newsmen on the subject, Roosevelt said he had talked recently with former Mayor Wagner about the possibility of his nomination by the Liberals, but would not elaborate.

Although he has said he is not "committed to them and there has been no commitment to me on their part," Roosevelt had generous praise for the Liberals on a walking tour of Brooklyn's Bedford Stuyvesant section. He said:

"I am very impressed by the Democratic procedures by which the party is moving toward selection of its candidate in contrast to both the Democratic and Republican parties."

Roosevelt withdrew last week as a candidate for the Democratic nomination after charging the party's selection process was boss-controlled.

Roosevelt will meet here with the Liberals' nine man screening committee Thursday before it recommends a gubernatorial candidate to the party's policy committee. He is the only man scheduled to be interviewed.

Ben Davidson, executive director of the party, noted how ever that Roosevelt was alone because "no one else has come forward at this time."

He said the committee could recommend a party member without an interview. James Farmer, the former director of the Congress of Racial Equality, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate, would fall into this category.

Drowned in Mishap

CANTON, N.Y. (AP)—Stephen McQueer, 17, was drowned Friday in the Grasse River near this St. Lawrence County community when the canoe in which he and a companion were riding capsized.

State Police said McQueer, who lived in DeKalb Junction, stayed with the canoe, while his friend swam about 20 feet to the river bank. McQueer's body was recovered from about 10 feet of water.

Kicked by Horse, Dies

WEST LEBANON, N.Y. (AP) — Steven Byrnes, 13, of Selkirk, was killed Friday when a horse he was grooming kicked him in the head at a stable in this community southeast of Albany.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

The best way to remove corn silk is to scrub it under running water, with a toothbrush. A toothbrush works much better than a utility brush or vegetable brush. The long, narrow bristles get between the rows of kernels, and get the silk out without smashing the kernels.

Mrs. E. Gehring

Dear Heloise:

My little toddler has some smooth plastic drinking cups which she sometimes drops. She can get a better grip if I put a large rubber band, or a strip cut from an old rubber glove, around the cup.

Mrs. W. H. Sommerville

Dear Heloise:

I would like to pass along something I learned while covering buttons. As you know, it is so hard to get the material to stay in place. I used a needle and thread and sewed around the edge of the small circle of material and gathered it in to fit the button.

Not only is it quicker and easier, but you'll have a much neater button as the material is distributed more evenly around the edges of the button.

B.M.B.

Dear Heloise:

I am right in the middle of painting, and have found a useful idea that I had never thought of before.

A TV cart with wheels (most sets come with one) is perfect to set my paint can on. The tray is just the right height, so there's no stooping, and it rolls right along with me.

Dear Heloise:

I spray some floral air freshener in my washing machine after I have cleaned and dried it out.

The machine still smells sweet and fresh when I start to use it the next wash day.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST

SHOULD DROP-INS JOIN THE PARTY?

Dear Mrs. Post: What was the right thing to do in this situation? The other night my husband and I went for a walk and we decided to drop in at a friend's house. To our embarrassment, when she opened the door, we saw there was a party in progress. She urged us to come in, but I told her we really couldn't and we'd see her soon. My husband says I was very unfriendly but I didn't mean to be; I just didn't want to impose.—Louise T.

Dear Louise: Since she was a close enough friend to drop in on her unannounced, she certainly would have welcomed you at her party. You undoubtedly would have felt a little uncomfortable not being in "party clothes," but even so, it would have been friendlier to go in just to say hello and say "hello" to her guests.

Boy Visits Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: I spent the month of July with relatives in another state. While there, I met a very nice boy. I saw quite a lot of him and we became good friends. He will be coming here shortly for a visit. We have no room to put him up here at our house so he will have to stay at a nearby hotel. Is it up to my family to pay for his room, or does he pay for it himself?—Julie

Dear Julie: If he is coming at your invitation, he is your guest and your parents should pay his motel bill. If, on the other hand, he wrote you and said he was coming to town for a visit and hoped to see you, then he is responsible for his own lodging.

Must Clergyman Be Invited to Wedding Dinner?

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be considered rude if I didn't invite the officiating clergyman to my daughter's wedding dinner?—Mae Lawrence.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Although the clergyman may not attend if he is not a friend of the family, he should, in courtesy, be invited to the wedding dinner.

Who pays for what at the wedding? This question is answered in detail in the booklet, "Wedding Expenses." To get a copy, send a dime and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this paper.

Important Meeting Of Coach House Is Set for Wednesday

It has been announced that an important meeting of Coach House Players has been called for Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 8 p. m. in Coach House on Augusta Street, this city.

Amendments to the constitution will be discussed.

Consumer Education Film Is Available

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz said today that he has extended an invitation to business and professional clubs; civic, fraternal and religious organizations; anti-poverty projects; parent-teachers groups and schools, and any other interested audience in New York State to avail themselves of a new film on consumer education and protection produced by the New York State Department of Law.

The 16 mm, 20-minute documentary in color on the work of Attorney General Lefkowitz' office in protecting New York State residents is entitled "The Fine Art of Fraud."

The film vividly presenting in separate segments three cases of the most recent, widespread frauds perpetrated on the public by business cheats, also stresses that the vast majority of businessmen are honest, reliable and act with integrity and urges consumers to "buy local."

Attorney General Lefkowitz noted that a presentation of the film while self-explanatory, is even more effective when a speaker from his office is present to answer questions about consumer problems from the audience. He said the Speakers' Bureau of his office fills requests from all parts of the State for Assistant Attorneys General to address organizations with or without presenting the film.

Attorney General Lefkowitz asked that any group wishing to book a speaker and/or the film write to Charles W. Stickle, Executive Assistant to the Attorney General, 80 Centre Street, New York, N. Y. 10013, at least two weeks in advance of the date of a meeting.

EDUCATOR RETURNS FOR VISIT—In the doorway of his trailer is Eugene LaPlante, former director of art for the Saugerties Central School System, here on a visit from the west coast. Mr. LaPlante is now supervising art programs in the Colton School System, Colton, Calif. He accepted the position in 1961. LaPlante is pictured here with Mrs. Dorothy A. Former Area Teacher and Family Visit Here

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

A former Saugerties High School director of art and popular tenor soloist paid a visit to Ulster County this week. He is Eugene LaPlante of Colton, Calif.

For several years Mr. LaPlante was a civic leader in Ulster County, a well-known artist and architect and accomplished singer. When he was on the staff of the Saugerties School System, he resided in Malden-on-Hudson with his wife June, daughters Pamela and Polly and son Rod. The LaPlante family resides now in Colton, Calif., approximately 60 miles south of Los Angeles.

A New Englander, Mr. LaPlante made the trip home this year to Massachusetts and New Hampshire to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. LaPlante is a native of New Hampshire. Mr. LaPlante's sister, Patricia, is accompanying the family back to the west coast where she will join the teaching staff in Colton also.

Earns Masters Degree

This summer Mr. LaPlante completed credits for his masters degree in Flagstaff, Ariz., at the university there. Last summer he studied at the University of Guadalupe, Mexico. While in Mexico, he concentrated on portrait and landscape painting with three of their leading instructors.

LaPlante attended the Boston Conservatory of Music and was graduated from the University of New Hampshire with a degree in art education. He appeared with the Boston Opera Company in the lead role of Don Jose in "Carmen," also "Student Prince," and "My Fair Lady."

Active in summer stock with the Salisbury Players in New Hampshire and Boston Players, Massachusetts, he had appeared in such plays as "Arsenic and Old Lace," "Importance of Being Earnest," and "Our Town."

In addition to his teaching, Mr. LaPlante has completed several commissioned works for individuals and business concerns. His most recent float for a citrus company on the west coast topped a top prize and a municipal government there has ordered a bronze bust of John F. Kennedy which Mr. LaPlante will complete this fall.

Scholarship Grants

Other members of the LaPlante family have been chalking up achievements of their own.

Pamela, now Mrs. Bruce Salvatore and a graduate of Stanford University, is studying for her masters on a scholarship grant at Harvard University. Her husband, an alumnus of Stanford, is also studying for his masters at Harvard on a scholarship. Mrs. Salvatore was valedictorian of the class of 1961 at Saugerties High School.

Paula LaPlante, a high school student, is gaining recognition for her original poetry while her brother Rod, who was graduated from high school in June of this year, will be a pre-Med student in the fall.

While in Ulster County, Mr. and Mrs. LaPlante and family visited at the Narel residence in West Hurley.

Also visiting the Narels are Dr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Robb of Atlantic Beach, L. I., educators in the Long Island School System.

Dear Abby . . .

Skirts Can't Get Too Much Shorter

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say something in your column about the short skirts girls and women are wearing these days. I ride the bus to work and I see women with their skirts hiked up so high you can see the tops of their nylons, their girdles and even their under-panties. It's disgusting. And they act like they don't even care.

If girls MUST wear these short skirts to be in style, why can't they at least keep their knees tightly pressed together when they sit on a bus? I am not an old fuddy-duddy. I am a 23-year-old married working girl.

SHOCKED IN DETROIT

DEAR SHOCKED: I can't dictate fashion, but I can recommend that women who wear short skirts carry sweaters, jackets or coats to throw across their knees when they sit down.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell us waitresses why a man will come into a dining room where there is just ONE table messed up, and he will sit there everytime?

DEAR WAITRESS: Maybe he's just a slob who feels more "at home" at a messed up table.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend (I'll call him Pinky) is in the navy and we correspond back and forth. Last week I got a letter from a navy buddy of Pinky's. His name is Irving. Well Irving said Pinky showed him a picture of me and he just felt like writing to me. He sent me a snap shot of himself and, Abby, he is a doll. Maybe I shouldn't say this, but Irving is a lot cuter than Pinky and to be perfectly honest, I'd like to write to him.

He said I should write in care of his sister in Dover, N. J., and she'd send my letter in her envelope, that way Pinky wouldn't find out. I am tempted, but I don't know if I should, because if Pinky found out it might kill him. What should I do?

GLADLY

DEAR GLADLY: If Pinky found out it might not only kill HIM, it might also kill Irving. Wait until the boys are civilians, and if you are still interested in meeting Irving, let him present himself in person. The whole thing could be a booby trap.

CONFIDENTIAL TO H. G. B. IN HUNTSVILLE, ALA.: Yes, I have a booklet on HOW TO HAVE A LOVELY WEDDING, but the best advice I can offer a bride is, "See your doctor (and preferably a gynecologist) for a physical checkup and authoritative answers to all your questions before the marriage."

If birth control is desired, it should be planned BEFORE the wedding. This includes Catholic girls, too, as the rhythm method should be clearly understood to be successfully practiced. (Too many young wives, who planned on working a few years while their husbands finished college, discover to their horror that they got pregnant on their honeymoon.)

Many couples experience shock and grief on learning that they are unable to consummate the marriage due to some slight physical abnormality which could have been easily corrected by minor surgery.

Mothers' advice from Aunt Nellie or "tips" from one of the girls is fine, but before a bride keeps her date with the preacher, she should keep one with her doctor.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, in-close a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Lists Training Plan

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick today announced that Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare James Gardner, have approved a federal grant to Ulster County to train unemployed persons to become licensed practical nurses. The grant is given under the Manpower Development and Training Act, the congressman disclosed and he added that the program will involve 45 weeks of training at a total cost of $85,971. The federal government will provide all the funds. Congressman Resnick said he felt the grant would help alleviate the shortage of nurses in the area.

Churches Help Exiled Cubans To Get Started

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban refugees, streaming into Miami at the rate of 4,000 monthly, are increasingly turning to churches for help in getting a foothold on life in exile.

The Southern Baptist Convention, long one of the most active in helping refugees, has announced a nationwide campaign for increased contributions of clothing, food and other items.

The Roman Catholic Hispanic Center reported that since refugees began arriving in 1959, it has spent more than $2 million aiding them. The center, directed by the Rev. Frederick Wass, has issued garments to 92,000 refugees; food to 76,000, and provided medical care for nearly 100,000.

Refugee centers also are maintained by Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian and other churches.

Little Federal Aid

The government-operated Cuban Refugee Center reported that only 11,000 persons — one of every 10 exiles in the Miami area — receive federal aid.

Four years ago nearly 70,990 were on the assistance rolls. At the Southern Baptist Hispanic Center, directed by the Rev. Hubert Hert, refugees receive a welcome kit containing such items as razors, tooth brushes and paste, and wash cloths. They also get their pick of available clothing, along with Cuban-type food, and sometimes furniture and electrical appliances.

German Perez, who dispenses the contributions to fellow refugees at the Baptist center, said: "Packages already are coming in nearly every day, and it is going to increase. They come from Southern Baptist congregations throughout the United States. The largest number have come from Georgia, Florida ranks second, and Virginia third."

Many Contributions

During the first six months this year, before start of the new campaign, 5,665 articles of clothing, 232 welcome kits, 37 pieces of furniture and 255 Bibles or New Testaments were issued to refugees, Perez said. Food was given to 258 families. Assistance in resettling in cities other than Miami was provided for 406 Cubans.

"Recently a couple with two boys arrived," Perez said. "We paid their rent here until we could get them resettled. In a few days they will leave to start a new life in Laurel, Md. Their father is a radio and television repair expert but does not speak English."

Ballet Theater Group Accepts New Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — A possible strike against the American Ballet Theater has been averted by signing of a new contract.

Harold Taylor, president of the Ballet Theater Foundation, and Hyman R. Faine, national executive secretary of the American Guild of Musical Artists, jointly announced the agreement Friday night.

The new contract provides a minimum of $174 a week on tour, $132 at home and $115 a week in rehearsal. Soloists will get $192 on tour, and $150 at home will remain the base pay, but the seniority rates go up to $165.

Under the previous contract the minimum was $142.50 weekly on tour, $130 a week at home and $85 a week in rehearsal. Soloists received a minimum of $162.50 a week on tour, $150 a week at home and $85 a week in rehearsal.

The new contract also provides for $42 a week sustenance on the road.

To College Post

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP)—Arnold R. Schaid of Burlington has been appointed vice president of St. Michael's College here, the first laymen ever named to that position according to officials of the Roman Catholic school.

Schaid, who was named to the post Friday, formerly was director of development and executive secretary of the alumni association of LeMoyne College in Syracuse, N.Y.

In his new position, Schaid will be in charge of development of the school and public relations.

Muscular Dystrophy Not Connected With Chest

The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., Ulster County Area Chapter and Joseph Belz, district director of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America have requested publication of the following article:

We, the members and officers of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., Ulster County Area Chapter, would like to take this opportunity to explain to you, the public, that the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., Ulster County Area Chapter is in no way connected or associated with the Ulster County Community Chest and therefore receives no funds from the Chest.

The ad placed in The Kingston Daily Freeman on Tuesday, August 30, 1966 by the Ulster County Community Chest for the local CP unit therefore is misleading to the public. We want you to know the truth. Diagnosis and treatment of children with Muscular Dystrophy performed at the Cerebral Palsy Clinic are paid for in full by the Ulster County Area Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

We sincerely hope that the Ulster County Community Chest has not confused the general public. Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., Ulster County area chapter does run its own independent campaign in the month of November and is solely supported by public contributions. All patients afflicted with muscular dystrophy, through the local patient service program, are supplied with orthopedic equipment, recreation, camping and therapy, all paid in full by the local chapter of muscular dystrophy.

The local Cerebral Palsy clinic is used to serve muscular dystrophy patients so as not to have duplicate clinics which in turn would cost the public more money, however, any muscular dystrophy child is treated and the bill is paid by the local Muscular Dystrophy Chapter.

We wish to thank the people of Ulster County for their generosity in the past and hope you will all support the Jerry Lewis Holiday Telethon for MD to be seen on Channel 5 TV-WNEW beginning Sunday evening, September 4 at 10 p.m. and ending Monday, September 5th at 5 p.m. Your pledge or contribution can be made by contacting the local Ulster County area chapter telephone headquarters at the Rondout National Bank, Broadway in Kingston or by calling the bank at 331-5350, 331-5351, 331-5352, or 331-5353.

Please remember MD has struck many times here in Ulster County and at present there are a number of muscular dystrophy patients in Ulster County who are being treated and supplied with equipment through the local Ulster County area of Muscular Dystrophy.

Resnick at Fair

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick was one of the first-on-hand Friday at the opening of the Columbia County Fair being held in Chatham. The fair opened yesterday and is scheduled to run through Labor Day. Congressman Resnick spent over three hours touring the grounds, viewing exhibitions and greeting old and new friends. He said he was delighted with this year's turnout and predicted the fair would be a tremendous success.

Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots, was born Dec. 7, 1542.

Yankees Recall Mike Ferraro From Toledo Farm Club

Will Report Next Tuesday In Baltimore

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

When the Toledo Mud Hens conclude their International League baseball season on Labor Day, Mike Ferraro will travel to Baltimore and is scheduled to join the New York Yankees for the rest of the current season.

Ferraro's recall was announced today by the Yankees front office. He will join teammates Mike Hegan, Bob Murcer, Stan Bahnsen and John Miller plus Bill Henry of Columbus and all are expected to see action with the parent club.

The promotion of Ferraro to the Yankees varsity comes after a good season with the club's International (Class AAA) League Club. Though the Hens will miss a spot in the playoffs by about two games, the former Kingston High star athlete has been consistently good.

Statistics prior to Friday night's game showed Ferraro with a .250 batting average. Included in his club high of 129 hits were 15 doubles, four triples and nine home runs. He had driven in 50 runs and scored 53.

However, it was on defense that the 22-year-old Ferraro was outstanding. In more than 140 games, he had committed only 14 errors and was involved in 50 double plays from his third base position.

Murcer, who was with the Yankees early in the season, was hitting .261 with 15 homers and 62 RBIs. The Oklahoma City southpaw swinger just recently turned 20.

Hegan, son of the Yankee coach, led the league early in the season and as of Aug. 30, Mike, now 24, was batting at a .265 clip with a league leading 11 triples, 11 homers and 44 runs-batted-in.

Bahnsen has compiled a 10-6 record in his second season of organized ball. He had a 2.85 earned run average, with 142 strikeouts and only 135 hits in 164 innings pitched.

Henry had an 11-9 mark with a 2.93 ERA at Columbus, Miller, a native of California and with the Yankee organization since 1962, batted .312 with 12 homers at Columbus. He played the last weeks at Toledo.

Others Recalled

The Yankees have recalled other players but they will not report until spring training. Included from Toledo are pitchers Jack Cullen and Gil Downs, catcher Frank Fernandez and outfielder Archie Moore. From Columbus, Ga. (AA Southern League), the Bombers recalled southpaw pitcher Mike Jerewicz and John Schroepfel from Greensboro, N. C. (Class A Carolina League) the club recalled second baseman Chet Trail.

Fernandez, a promising catcher, was slated to join the Yankees in Baltimore but a serious injury in a home plate collision on Monday ended the season for the 23-year-old right handed hitting star from Staten Island. He suffered a hairline fracture of the right knee.

Ferraro was with the Yankees for a brief period in spring training but this will be his first chance to see extended action. The team will be in Baltimore and Boston before returning to Yankee Stadium on Tuesday, Sept. 13 for a night game against Washington.

It is expected that Mike will spell Clete Boyer at third base. Boyer is in the throes of a season long hitting slump and his average is under .230.

The 54-hole tourney gets underway Sunday, 9 a. m., at Wiltwyck, moves to Woodstock on Sunday at 2 p. m. and closes on Labor Day, 9 a. m., at Twaalfskill. Van Aken is the defending champion.

Clemente Raps 2,000th Hit Tigers Sweep Doubleheader

Paces Pirates To 7-3 Victory Over Chicago

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente says he's a better home-run hitter than people think, but the Chicago Cubs would rather not think about it.

The Pittsburgh outfielder's three-run homer against the Cubs Friday was thought provoking in more ways than one.

In the first place, it was Clemente's 2,000th major-league hit. It was also his 23rd homer, tying his best season-long effort in that department. And it gave Roberto 101 runs batted in, marking the first time in his 12-year career he's topped 100.

But most important, says Roberto, the fifth-inning shot boosted the Pirates to a 7-3 victory and sole tenancy of first place in the National League.

San Francisco, tied with the Bucs when the day's action began, lost to St. Louis 6-5 in 12 innings.

Elsewhere in the league, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 6-1. Philadelphia shut out New York 6-0 and Atlanta won a doubleheader from Houston 6-5 and 2-1.

Cepeda Wins It

Orlando Cepeda popped up to haunt his Giant ex-teammates, doubling in the 12th inning and coming home on Mike Shannon's single for the winning run. The Giants had taken a one-run lead with four runs in the seventh, but an error by Tito Fuentes sent the game into extra innings.

Claude Osteen and Bob Miller combined for a three-hitter and Ron Fairly drove in three runs, two with a homer, as the Dodgers strayed two games back of the Pirates.

Jim Bunning pinned the Mets back on six hits and Rich Allen clubbed a pair of homers for the Phillies fourth victory in their last five games. Allen now has 35 home runs.

Ed Mathews hit two homers in Atlanta's opening victory and Pat Jarvis stopped Houston on four hits in the finale. It was Atlanta's first doubleheader victory of the season.

Baltimore Margin Now at 9½ Games As Birds Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline began his vacation by working overtime, but Willie Horton and Mickey Stanley split the difference on Detroit's first payday of the month.

Kaline, the Tigers' slumping slugger, was benched in the opener of Friday night's doubleheader at Cleveland but played 10 innings in the second game while Horton and Stanley paved the way to a profitable 4-2, 7-5 sweep over the Indians.

The twin victories moved the Tigers within 9½ games of American League-leading Baltimore — their deepest penetration since July 19.

Horton walloped a three-run homer in the first game, backing the four-hit pitching of Denny McLain. Stanley rapped three hits, including his first homer of the year, in the nightcap and scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th.

The Tigers picked up 1½ games on the Orioles, who bowed to Chicago 9-8 in 11 innings for their sixth loss in the last seven games.

Elsewhere, Minnesota outscored New York 8-5, California edged Washington 6-5 and Kansas City trimmed Boston 5-1.

Rally From Deficit

The Indians jumped on Joe Sparma for five runs in the first inning of the nightcap but Detroit fought back, finally tying it 5-5 on a pinch homer by Brown in the sixth.

Stanley singled in the 10th, raced to third on Dick McAuliffe's single and scored the go-ahead run on Jim Northrup's force-out grounder. Don Wert then singled home the wrap-up run.

Stu Miller, Baltimore's usually brilliant relief specialist, hit Al Weis and Tommie Agee with pitches in the 11th inning, forcing across the winning run. Tom McCraw opened the 11th with a double and Don Buford drew an intentional walk before Miller's control disappeared.

Agee drove in four earlier runs with a single and bases-loaded triple.

The Bronx tied the game 8-8 on Boog Powell's two-out run-scoring single in the ninth.

Earl Battey's three-run double in the first inning and pitcher Jim Grant's tie-breaking single in the fourth sparked the Twins to their fourth straight victory.

Casper Now Only 1 Back In Tourney

By TOM REEDY

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Those four to one odds the gamblers put on Bill Casper to win the $200,000 Carling Golf Tournament weeks ago looked like a good bet today for those who backed the American.

Casper strode into the final round of the 72 hole medal play tournament with a 216, one shot behind leader Kel Nagle of Australia.

The smarties were taking a lot of notice of the shift in wind and weather off the Irish Sea. Nagle held his lead Friday by shooting a par 73 over the 7,037-yard Royal Birkdale course. At the same time, Casper, the U.S. open champion, was doing a cracking four under par 69 to leap back into contention.

Casper's round was by far the best of the championship even though it was not the lowest. Bert Yancey, of Radnor, Pa., beat it with a course record equalling 68 Thursday when the weather was fine. Playing with Nagle Friday he shot a 76 for 217, which put him two shots off the pace.

Yancey stayed in the hunt largely because of a 30-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 18th hole.

Going into the final round there were only eight players under par and a mere three who equalled it. Nagle at 215 was trailed by Casper at 216. At 217 were Bruce Devlin of Australia and Yancey. In with 218 were Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, Peter Thomson of Australia, Terry Dill of Muleshoe, Tex., and Neil Coles of England.

Ladies Booster

The Ladies Booster League will commence its season Tuesday, Sept. 6, 9 o'clock at Ferraro's Bowlerama. A business meeting will be held the same night at 8 p. m.

AFL Opener

It was just like old times for Dick Wood and the Oakland Raiders. He threw and they caught.

Only one problem: He plays now for the new Miami Dolphins.

So Wood's misguided accuracy cost the Dolphins a shocking upset in their first regular season game as they lost to the Raiders 23-14 in the American Football League opener.

The Chicago Bears nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 22-20 on five field goals by Roger LeClerc and Bob Hayes scored on two long pass plays to pace Dallas over Minnesota 28-24 as the National Football League began its final weekend of exhibition contests.

The AFL resumes its regular season tonight when Denver plays at Houston and Sunday when Buffalo and San Diego, last year's championship game opponents, meet in San Diego, Calif.

In the NFL exhibitions to-night, Cleveland plays Pittsburgh at Birmingham, Ala.; New York takes on Green Bay at Milwaukee, Wis.; Philadelphia plays at Washington, and San Francisco is at Los Angeles.

Four Interceptions

Wood, the former Oakland quarterback who went to the Dolphins in the draft, completed three passes in 12 attempts and had four intercepted. Those four — two each by Howie Williams and Dave Grayson — led to 10 points for Oakland and cut off two Miami scoring threats.

"Except for the alertness of Williams and Grayson, we would have been in real trouble," said Raider Coach, John Rabe.

Joe Auer, formerly of the Los Angeles Rams, gave the Raiders a jolt by racing 95 yards for a touchdown with the opening kickoff.

But then interceptions put the Raiders twice on the Dolphin 16 in the second period and Oakland turned them into a two-yard touchdown run by Hewitt Dixon and a 16-yard field goal by Mike Mercer.

The other two thefts occurred deep in Oakland territory. Hayes teamed first with Don Meredith and then Craig Morton on scoring plays of 45 and 44 yards in the last half as the Cowboys overcame a 10-7 halftime deficit for a 5-0 exhibition record.

Fran Tarkenton threw 15 yards to Paul Flatley for a score to pull the Vikings within four points and hit Flatley again in the final minutes for the 22-38, 33 and 33 yards out, the final coming in the opening minutes of the last period.

St. Louis had built a 20-12 lead on Charley Johnson's 71-yard aerial to Jackie Smith, a one-yard plunge by Willis Crenshaw and two field goals by Jim Bakken.

Bret Hanover Sets Record With 1:54 Mile at Vernon

VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — The fabulous Bret Hanover and his 62-year-old trainer-driver, Frank Ervin, harness-racing's fastest mile behind them, were looking for new records to conquer today.

Bret paced the mile in 1:54 flat Friday night, smashing by three-fifths of a second the previous mark set by Adios Butler in 1960. The next goal appears to be the first million-dollar total winnings in the sport before the big bay son of Adios is retired to begin stud duties next year.

The 4-year-old already is pacing's leading money-winner with earnings of $849,852. He needs only $35,243 to tie the trotting earnings garnered by retired Su Mac Lad, Stanley Dancer's popular gelding.

Another mark still standing is Adios Butler's half-mile-track record of 1:35 3-5 set in a time trial at Delaware Ohio, in 1961. Bret holds the double-oval race record of 1:57 set last year at Delaware.

Against the Wind

The big, good-natured bay faced a mounting wind in his effort against the clock Friday night. A chestnut Thoroughbred brought from Lexington, Ky., was hitched to a sulky to push Bret to his utmost. Ike Bailey

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—The Auburn Mets, who seem to know more about winning than their parent club in New York, hold the 1966 championship of the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League.

The Mets, managed by Clyde McCullough, won the best-of-three Governors' Cup playoffs Friday night, beating the Binghamton Triplets, on a four-hitter pitched by Jerry Kosman. Auburn had won the first post-season game, 14-4, at home Thursday night.

John Gonsalves scored the games' only run in the first inning when the Triplets' starting pitcher, Jim Smith, walked Glenn Ezell with the bases loaded. Gonsalves, Joe Mook and Steve Smith earlier had singled.

A crowd of 1,127 watched as Kosman hurled his shutout and struck out six.

Bill Brown

OFFENSEPASSING—By now Francis Tarkenton should be scrambling less and enjoying it more. At least, Dutch Van Brocklin would. Fran's got every quality to be great except a super arm. And he's no dud passing. Ron VanderKelen's waited so long in wings he's itchy to be traded. RATING—B+*RECEIVING—Now taking an appearance of set unit after five years. Paul Flatley's a cinch at split end, Hal Bedsole at tight end—with flanker situation in hands of Tom Hall or Jim Phillips. No super speed there, but they've all got good hands. Rookie Doug Meers replaces retired Gordy Smith RATING—B+*RUNNING—As good as any in football, when Tommy Mason's healthy. But the Human Projectile's always going to get hurt some place along the line with his reckless style. Bill Brown's a solid fullback, especially potent as a receiver. Depth has been injected with signing of Arkansas'. Jim Lindsey. RATING—A-*LINE—There's a spot open for one tackle. Maybe Archie Sutton will show why Vikings bid high for him a year ago. Or it'll be Doug Davis of Kentucky. Potential weak point. Respectable everywhere else with all-pro Mick Tingelhoff in middle. Larry Bowie and Milt Sunde at guards, and Grady Alderman, only original expansion draftee, at left tackle. RATING—B-*KICKING—Tops on both counts. Bobby Walden kicks high and deep on punts. Fred Cox did terrific job in field goal department, though Van Brocklin would like to see him kick off deeper. RATING—A*DEFENSE*LINE—If Carl Eller and Jim Marshall, the ends, deliver the pass rush they're capable of, Vikings have no worries. Gary Larsen and Paul Dickson will hold down the middle O.K., bolstered by top draftee Jerry Shay of Purdue. Elie, Marshall can also be jogged by the job threat presented by young Bill Briggs of Iowa. RATING—B*LINEBACKING—Should be perturbed by apparent retirement decision of middleman Rip Hawkins, natural leader of the defense. Surprisingly they're not because Lonnie Warwick's expected to do just as well and provide better range. Roy Winston, John Kirby are steady on corners, backed by rookie Don Hansen. RATING—B*SECONDARY—Too much juggling of position killed them last year. They've got to stay with George Rose, Ed Sharockman as the vital corner backs. Early candidates to fill the safety roles are Karl Kassulke and Jeff Jordan, but they'll have to hustle to ward off Ron Ackles. RATING—B-SUMMARY—Vikings were so sky high on chances last year that it'll probably help them to have heat off as contender. People doubt their staying power. But they're still a young team, with sparks like Tarkenton and Mason. The Dutchman keeps them hustling. If rookies provide depth, look out. PREDICTION — SECOND."SALAH

Rescuer Is Missing

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A man about 28 years old disappeared after helping a fellow swimmer in the Niagara River early today and was presumed drowned, the Erie County sheriff office said.

Deputies said James Carroll of Suburban Cheektowaga and three friends anchored a 14-foot outboard motorboat 50 feet off nearby Grand Island and went swimming.

One of the friends appeared to be in trouble, deputies said, and Carroll went to his assistance. He disappeared while swimming back to the boat. Underwater rescue teams searched for the body.

The friend reached safety. Carroll's home is at 45 Beechwood Rd.

Note Antipoverty Program Showed Gains in Harlem

By HOLLE I. WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — Not all of Harlem's children could get to antipoverty recreation facilities this summer. So youth workers organized Operation Pushcart, and took the toys and games to the kids in the street.

The program wound up today, with the children headed back to school and the workers wishing they could keep it going even in the winter months. They figure it served more than 1,000 underprivileged youngsters aged 6 to 12 in its six weeks.

The children emerged from their crowded tenement homes each day before 9 a.m. to await project workers pushing black and yellow wheel barrows stuffed with monopoly sets, water color and finger paint sets, balls and basketweaving outfits.

Lasted Till 4 P. M.

After group activities were set up in roped-off blocks, the day's schedule of games usually continued until 4 p.m. Sometimes the groups went to a nearby swimming pool or a park to study nature.

All the workers in the program are Harlem residents. Joseph Greatheart, program coordinator, said, "We thought the children would respond more if they were supervised by people from their own neighborhoods."

Greatheart said, "The program has been a bigger success than we imagined. We only had a short time to set up the project."

Funds Were Late

Federal antipoverty funds were allocated late, and "we had to hire quickly because we were late," he said. Harlem Youth Unlimited, the community youth program of HARYOU-ACT, Harlem's antipoverty agency, ran Operation Pushcart.

Greatheart said he hopes federal antipoverty officials continue the program through the winter. "It's something these kids have come to depend on," he said. "You can't just let them down now after giving them something to hope for."

He said Pushcart was given $40,000 for a 10-week program, but had only operated six weeks.

"We have money to turn back," he said.

Navy Acrobatic Star Is Killed In Plane Mishap

TORONTO (AP) — A member of the U.S. Navy's crack aerial acrobatic team, the Blue Angels, was killed Friday when his plane crashed on the shore of Lake Ontario within view of thousands of air show fans.

The swept-wing Grumman F11 Tiger was making a high-speed solo flyby when it crashed about 3,000 yards from the packed grandstand during the Canadian International Air Show at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Wreckage of the plane hurtled through the air, cutting the leg of a helicopter pilot on the shore. No other injuries were reported.

A shocked silence fell over the waterfront after the crash. The other five pilots called off the rest of their 23-minute show and returned to Toronto Airport, making one low-level pass as a salute to their fallen comrade before landing.

The pilot, Lt. Dick Oliver, 31, of Fort Mill, S.C., was to complete his three-year hitch with the Blue Angels in November. He was the father of two children, now living with his divorced wife.

Order Russian Aide to Leave; Spying Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian Embassy aide has been ordered to leave the United States after allegedly trying to buy secret data, especially about the U.S. moon probe.

In a terse announcement Friday, the State Department said it had demanded the expulsion of Valentin A. Revin, a science officer at the Russian Embassy here.

It said only that Revin tried to obtain classified information from an American citizen in return for large sums of money, but that the FBI thwarted these attempts.

Revin was given three working days to pack his bags and leave.

From other sources it was learned that the American with whom he made contact was a Washington area scientist who kept the FBI fully informed from the beginning and acted with FBI approval.

The official announcement did not specify the amount of money involved. But it was learned that Revin paid the American more than $5,000, which was turned over to the FBI.

Revin sought particularly to obtain data on the U.S. space program, with special emphasis on the man-on-the-moon project, it was learned.

Under FBI surveillance, the American dropped material for Revin in secluded spots around Washington. Marks were placed on certain pages of telephone directories at specified phone booths to let Revin know of a pickup.

Revin had been under FBI surveillance for a year.

Fish Hits Rival

shad catch in 1887 was more than two million pounds and now is less than a third of that amount.

Further downstream at Stockport, in Columbia county, Fish examined areas which, according to Skipper Ted Faxon, had once been inhabited by "acres of wild ducks and geese." Residual oil from tankers dumping their ballast has destroyed the wild rice and duck cabbage, the primary foods of these birds.

Fish commented, "present laws have proved wholly inadequate in prohibiting tankers from polluting the river by dumping their ballast. New and more powerful federal legislation is needed immediately to prevent the pollution of the river and total extinction of wild life."

On the oil blackened banks a few ducks were sunning themselves until the oil on their feet and feathers evaporated so they could fly again.

After stopping at Coxsack, Athens and Catskill, the party was joined by Senator R. Watson Pomeroy and Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson (Ulster County) at Saugerties.

These men joined Fish in deploring the long continued neglect and decline of the river for both commercial and recreational use as they continued downstream.

South of Saugerties, Fish asked that the boat move in near the shore so that he and the others might get a closer look at abandoned industrial sites along the river.

The tour ended with a swing up the Rondout Creek in Kingston where Fish noted that "with proper development the City of Kingston could be refurbished to become the 'Williamsburg of New York State.' The rotting colonial and 19th century buildings offer a potential historic neighborhood rivaling any other in America."

Water Haul Cost $18,000 Daily For Pennsy City

YORK, Pa. (AP) — It's costing $18,000 a day to truck water into this southern Pennsylvania city where a prolonged drought has virtually dried up its main source of supply.

"This is the worst," said Mayor John L. Snyder Friday, after declaring an emergency and asking for help from both the federal and state governments.

Snyder said a flood by Codorus Creek that caused millions in damage 33 years ago was not as bad.

"It was in August of 1933 when we had four days of heavy rains. The creek overflowed cutting the city in half. Damage was in the millions," Snyder said.

"But this is the worst. You can cope with a flood. You can evade the water by going to higher ground. What do you do when you're on dry ground?"

The York Water Co. said the Codorus Reservoir was dwindling at the rate of eight million gallons per day. Officials estimated that the current supply would last about a month.

In Harrisburg, the state capital, the Public Utility Commission said the company has been hauling $18,000 a day hauling water from the Susquehanna River, 16 miles to the west. As the situation grew more critical, however, that amount was expected to reach $25,000 a day.

The 30,000 residents of this 225-year-old city are going through the long, hot summer under rigid restrictions on water use. No washing of cars, no sprinkling of lawns, no water served in restaurants, unless requested.

Since June, rainfall has measured a little over three inches in the York area, nine inches below normal. Agriculture officials estimate crop loss at $8 million in the county.

Snyder met with state officials in Harrisburg Thursday to seek support for his request for federal aid. The office of Gov. William W. Scranton said the matter was being considered.

Texas Heart Victim Will Leave Hospital

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The only known survivor of an artificial heart pump operation is expected to be discharged from Methodist Hospital Monday or Tuesday, his own heart healed and well again.

Esperanza del Valle Vasquez, 37, who doctors fitted with a plastic pumping device for 10 days Aug. 8, was ready to return to her Mexico City home and begin convalescence.

Four other patients who underwent operations like Mrs. Vasquez' died after surgery. Two succumbed to lung complications here and two more died in Brooklyn's Maimonides Hospital after receiving heart pumps.

Only minimal details of Mrs. Vasquez' case have been released by the hospital, but officials promised a full report, including pictures and diagrams, after her discharge.

China Captives Freed

HONG KONG (AP) — Three British bachelors who went water skiing northeast of Hong Kong Monday and were captured by a Red Chinese shore patrol, returned here today.

"We certainly didn't enjoy the experience," said David Edwards, "but we will go water skiing again. Only the next time we won't go out of Hong Kong's port shelter."

Edwards, 27, James F. Wilson, 28, and Michael H. Stapleton, 28, all work in Hong Kong.

A news conference the three said they apparently steered off course and entered Communist Chinese territorial waters.

Tito Has Solution

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito says Red China thinks it can solve its economic ills and other problems through war.

Tito made the remark Friday in a speech in Murška Sotoba near the Hungarian border.

Yugoslavia, he said, wants peace, because only through peace can it build socialism.

"A country which thinks that only through war can it solve its economic and other problems — in fact pursues war mongering policies," he declared.

Hospital Strike Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Local 237 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has threatened to strike the city's 22 municipal hospitals in an effort to oust another union as bargaining agent for 20,000 non-medical employees.

The city has certified the AFL-CIO District Council 37, State, County and Municipal Employees, as agent for the workers.

William Lewis, president of Teamsters Local 237, said Friday that the city had given his union "a raw deal" and warned it might be necessary to strike against "this giant, anti-labor conspiracy."

A Frenchman Brought the Gypsy Moth to the U. S. A.

Another Frenchman is going to destroy them with the use of a combination of 16 tree taps in the form of traps. Absolutely non-poisonous, acts like quicksand, the more they debate the more they get stuck. Will catch any kind of moth in general, gypsy moth in particular, plus flies, mosquitoes, field mice, etc. One trap—$30 (or on consignment)—will cover up to 1000 acres. Act now, as the corn and apple borers will become moths and lay their eggs, to prevent destruction by their caterpillars next spring and summer. Each dollar spent on this invention will save you thousands of dollars. Write or call for further explanation.

LBJ Cites Great

sylvania and West Virginia, and on Monday, will be moving through Michigan and Ohio — all the while searching for Democratic votes in the November election.

From West Virginia, Johnson was bound for Dallstown, Pa., to help celebrate the community's 100th birthday. Many of the local menfolk have grown beards for the occasion.

Plans Parley

Discussing global water problems at Summersville, Johnson said the United States will sponsor an international conference on water for peace in Washington next May 23-31. The Soviet Union and a number of other Communist nations will be invited to send representatives to the assembly. Johnson had announced last year that such a conference would be held, but its timing had not been disclosed before.

The President's big argument for pure water on an earth-circling scale was based on the assumption that people denied it will fight for it.

Even today, he said, nearly half a billion persons live in poor countries that draw their water from unclean sources.

Noting that water needs are great today — and he cited the continuing drought in the northeastern United States — Johnson wondered aloud what the situation might be at the end of the century when experts predict the present global population of 3 billion will have doubled.

The battle for pure water must be won, he said, adding: "A genuine peace cannot be founded in a desert, or among crowded nations starved for this elemental — yes, this divine — gift."

In Dallstown, as in many other points along his weekend speechmaking routes in recent weeks, a first-term Democrat is facing strong opposition from a Republican challenger. The incumbent is Rep. N. Neiman Craley Jr.

Returns by Dark

The one-day tour into West Virginia and Pennsylvania — Johnson is due back at the White House before dark — is the prelude to a heavier schedule Monday, when Johnson will travel to Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., and Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio.

The Democratic party will pick up the tab for the President's expenses on Labor Day.

Today's trip, with its presidential appearances at civic functions, was labeled "nonpolitical" by the White House.

However, Johnson has been managing to find nonpolitical occasions to visit congressional districts where freshmen Democrats face potential troubles — and he is known to believe that his own popularity, sagging a bit in the polls of late, benefits from personal exposure.

The $46-million Summersville dam on Gauley River backs up a flood control reservoir designed to help control the waters of the Ohio and Mississippi river basins. In addition, a public recreation area is being established along the banks of the man-made lake behind the dam.

If the weather posed an element of uncertainty in West Virginia, a possible racial violence could upset the President's Labor Day visit to Dayton.

Johnson's intention to visit the Ohio city was announced Thursday shortly before National Guardsmen were ordered into the streets there to quell rioting and looting in a Negro section following the fatal shooting of a Negro man.

The sheriff for the county immediately urged that the presidential visit be canceled. The White House said that, as of today, Johnson will go to Dayton.

DeGaulle Flies To New Caledonia

By GORDON TAIT

NOUMEA, New Caledonia (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle flew into this flowered Pacific island today after a tumultuous three-day state visit to Cambodia where he demanded that all foreign troops get out of Viet Nam.

In a major speech in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Thursday, De Gaulle made it clear he meant American troops, but the wording of a joint communique today, signed also by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia, was broad enough to include Soviet and Red Chinese technicians in North Viet Nam.

There was no mention made of North Vietnamese troops because, informed sources accompanying De Gaulle said, the French president did not consider this the same sort of intervention as the American.

The French president's Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, in Saigon asked, "Why has the general not launched a solemn appeal to North Viet Nam and to China to stop the aggression? This would put an end to the war."

Washington officials said the United States cannot accept a timetable for pulling troops out of Viet Nam unless Hanoi sets one too, but that Communist government has rejected De Gaulle's plan. It says the United States must withdraw first.

The French president was about half way through his 19-day, 27,000-mile journey around the world. New Caledonia is 750 miles east of Australia.

He will go on to Tahiti and, if weather conditions are right, witness a French atomic test in that area.

De Gaulle then flies on to Guadaloupe, a French island in the Caribbean, where Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., says he hopes President Johnson will meet him to discuss the Vietnamese war.

Plans Are Made

Israel Bond cooperation include the expansion of the National Water Carrier System into new land areas under cultivation; the need for continued absorption of thousands of immigrants, which necessitates very large — scale home building through Israel Bond money; the deep water port of Ashdod, marking an opening of a new gateway for Negro products, must be expanded — this too, is a great Israel Bond undertaking.

"Plans are underway for the extension of the Israel Railroad System to the southern port of Elath; roads, a key to further development, must be expanded between key cities; key industries must be developed. All these, and many other economic advances, are possible for Israel with the help of Israel Bonds."

The chairman announced that a broad program of activities will take place during the month of September, culminating with a gala event late in the month. Israel Bonds common denominations are $100, $250, $500, $1,000, $1,500 and a special $1,800 bond celebrating the 18th year of Israel's founding (CHAI). Bonds mature at 160 per cent of their face value a truly outstanding accumulation of interest," the chairman said.

Ronder and Rafalowsky urged members of the community to participate fully in this important endeavor, and said that those wishing to purchase bonds could contact either chairman, or any member of the board committee.

The campaign was launched at a committee luncheon held on Thursday at the Governor Clinton.

Ronder is president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston and serves as a director on the board of the Kingston Trust Company. Ronder is past president of Temple Emanuel.

Rafalowsky is past president of Congregation Ahavath Israel and presently serves on that synagogue's board. He is a member of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis, Elks and American Legion. He is past chairman of the United Jewish Appeal of Kingston, and is a member of B'nai B'rith of Kingston. Rafalowsky is serving this year as chairman of the intermediate group of Benedictine Hospital Drive and is always active in the Community Chest program.

Probes Medical Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Welfare William Gorham has promised "a very hard and a very quick look" into the rising costs of medical services.

But, Gorham added, he will not make "a witchhunt for skulduggery" out of the investigation ordered by President Johnson.

Gorham was designated by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner to make the study of the rise in medical costs after Gardner cited statistics that hospital and doctors' bills increased 3.4 per cent in the preceding six months.

Radioactive Milk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service says the amount of radioactive iodine 131 found in U.S. milk samples after the China's first nuclear explosion was far below the level regarded as posing a health hazard.

A PHS spokesman said Friday that a measurable amount of iodine 131 was found in milk samples in 28 different areas during May.

The spokesman said the highest reading was 80 picocuries — a measure of radioactivity — a liter at Little Rock, Ark. Sixty picocuries per liter were measured at St. Louis and 50 at Kansas City and Indianapolis.

The PHS said the national network of 63 milk sampling stations averaged 10 picocuries per liter, compared to the 84,000 picocuries per liter requiring protective action where it is found.

Capital Footnotes

The Federal Aviation Agency says eight federal agencies are forming a "bird hazard committee" to seek ways to reduce the millions of dollars damage caused to airplanes each year by birds.

The U.S. Savings and Loan League has reversed its position and now supports a bill that would fix a 4.5 per cent ceiling on the interest banks can pay on certificates of deposit of $100,000 or less.

A presidential advisory commission will begin soon studying ways of improving the nation's libraries.

The State Department says the visa of U Aung Than, a prominent Burmese Socialist, was issued by mistake and wants him to leave the country.

The announcement was made on the eve of the U.S. State Department's military leader, Gen. Ne Win, whose rise to power through a military coup preceded Aung Than's flight to Thailand.

Capital Quotes

"It should be clear by now that we are in a race with disaster. Either the world's water needs will be met, or the inevitable result will be mass starvation, mass epidemics and mass poverty greater than anything we know today. If we fail, I can assure you that not even America's unprecedented military might will be able to preserve the peace for long" — President Johnson.

County Saddened

vassed their neighborhoods for pennies, nickles and dimes; personally delivered the money to the station's broadcasting headquarters here. Every plant, business and store throughout the area solicited employees for donations and the money mounted beyond all expectations.

So successful was the drive, so heartfelt and spontaneous was the response that the dream of her husband and her parents became an almost overnight reality. With a fund established in her name, arrangements were made to move her husband from Albany Medical Center to the Brooklyn Hospital and hope mounted that her condition would improve.

As Dr. Morell Avrum, New York kidney specialist, took over her case, he found further complications. The kidney condition and resultant poisoning had effected her heart and an operation looked to remove a cyst on her lungs. If she was to live, she required full-time attention and the staff in Brooklyn gave that.

Although the actual case of Mrs. Santosky's death was not made known by the hospital to the public, it was acknowledged that she had been on the "critical" list for several days.

Considered a Symbol

News of her death saddened hundreds here—but the sadness was tempered by the knowledge that they had tried all that was humanly possible to give Jackie Santosky the chance she had earned. She had become a symbol of all those who suffer the pain of illness everywhere, as well as a symbol of the innate good in human beings, who can and will rally to a worthy cause.

Children who had collected money in her name were visibly touched by the news of her passing. Many placed tearful calls to local papers and radio stations to ask if the report of her death was true. Adults who hoped for her recovery philosophically suggested that Mrs. Santosky's fight had not been all in vain; that future victims of the same illness would now be offered a better chance for survival through use of the machine and the fund established in her name.

Plans are already being made to carry on the Jackie Santosky Fund in her memory and there are many who are willing to work for the establishment of a clinic in Kingston to aid all future Jackie Santoskys of the area. No one could be found who felt the attempt to save the courageous young woman had been entirely in vain. The money donated had been given in hope and in tribute and those who had given believed their contributions had been well spent. Several noted that it is impossible to place a price on a human life and that no price could ever be set on the possibility of a chance to save a life.

Legend Lives On

Many feel that the Jackie Santosky story has not come to an end with her untimely death. As long as people remember her and the manner in which she stirred the consciences of the people of Ulster County, her legend will live here they say, and much subsequent good may be done because of the girl who became a symbol of greatness in the last brief weeks of her life.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time, according to the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Rosendale. Information released by the funeral home said the funeral would be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the funeral home. Calling hours will be announced later.

King has given his approval to those who plan to march Sunday, but he has urged their leaders to reconsider.

Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane, commander of the Guard, said: "The troops will be given the same orders they have had for previous disturbances. If fired upon, they are to return the fire and shoot to kill."

Berkos outlined a number of restrictions for the demonstrators to follow.

The march must start at 2 p. m. and proceed over the announced route. They also have been ordered to march no more than eight abreast.

Holiday Weekend Weather Outlook Is Fair, Warmer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain fell in scattered sections but generally fair weather prevailed today in most of the nation.

Thundershowers were reported from the Southern Plains to the southern Great Lakes region. Torrential rains doused Goodland, Kan., Friday night, with more than 2-3 inches drenching the area in a 30-minute period.

The shower belt Friday night covered areas along the Gulf Coast and from the Rockies to the Great Lakes region.

Sunny and warm weather was indicated for most of the country, with thundershowers probable in scattered areas, mainly from the Gulf states to the Great Lakes and westward to the central and southern Rockies.

High Tides Noted, Faith, Moon Blamed

Exceptionally high tides have been noted in this area during the past week.

In the New York area, according to a report by the Fire Island Association, a homeowners group, Governor Rockefeller has been advised of the "emergency situation" threatening beach front properties.

The Coast Guard station there said that tides have been running more than three feet above normal. A full moon and the fringe effect of Hurricane Faith are considered responsible.

Candidate Scores Election in Viet

Eric Lindbloom, independent peace candidate for Congress in the 28th District, today called the forthcoming election in South Viet Nam a "sham" and said that "the outcome is rigged to insure the continuance of a regime in Saigon that will be identified with U.S. policy."

"In the guise of supporting self-determination," he declared, "the U.S. government is backing an election for a constitutional assembly on Sept. 11 which is a mockery of the democratic process."

"I am not charging that there has been or will be deliberate fraud," Lindbloom said. "There is no need for fraud or sabotage. Anyone examining the provisions of the election law approved by the Saigon government will see that the law itself provides the framework for a predictable—and, therefore, rigged—outcome."

"Congressman Resnick in his debate with me Friday evening said, 'We are doing our level best to conduct free elections.' I ask, what is 'free' about an election in which not only Communists but neutralist candidates are excluded, when neutralism represents the expressed wish of a majority of non-Communist South Vietnamese. What is 'free' about an election which is to be conducted in less than half of the area of South Viet Nam, in only those cities and villages demonstrably in control of U.S.-Saigon forces? What is 'free' about an election held under a law which provides for removal from office any elected assembly delegate who deviates from support of our policy?"

Lindsay Loses Fight to Block Vote on Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay has lost a legal battle to block two referendums that would bar civilians from review boards, including the city's controversial, new police review board.

That was the effect of a 5-2 decision Friday by the State Court of Appeals, which upheld the validity of two petitions calling for voters to decide on the referendum in the Nov. 2 election in the city.

The court's decision rejected an appeal by the city from two lower-court rulings upholding the petitions.

During a special session Friday, the state's highest court also: —Ruled that U.S. Rep. Edna F. Kelley was the winner in her Democratic primary contest in Brooklyn's 12th Congressional District.

—Ordered two new primary elections involving Democrats for the state Assembly from New York City districts.

—Refused to review a lower-court decision ordering a new Democratic primary election in Manhattan's 19th Congressional District.

The petitions seeking the referendum were brought by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association (PBA) and by the Conservative Party.

They maintained that their proposals, seeking to bar any civilians from serving on a review board, constituted a change in the city charter and therefore properly could be brought before the voters.

Mayor Lindsay and his advisors maintain that charter changes are not involved and that the proposals should not appear on the ballot.

In upholding the primary election of Mrs. Kelley, the court agreed with State Supreme Court that she had a 1,201-vote edge over Eugene Victor, an attorney, Victor, 46, had charged that the primary last June 25 was permeated with fraud. Mrs. Kelley has been a member of Congress for 16 years.

The new primary elections were ordered in the 27th and 19th Assembly districts in Queens.

The battle in the 27th involves Herbert J. Miller and Martin M. Psaty. Miller is the incumbent and lost the primary but State Supreme Court ordered a new election because there were 90 irregularities and the margin of victory was only 80 votes.

The new election in the 19th will involve Herbert A. Posner, Milton E. Jacobowitz, J. Lewis Fox and William T. Brennan.

The state's highest court upheld a lower-court ruling that 370 of 412 persons voted illegally in the four-way race. The margin between Jacobowitz and Posner was only 24 votes. The other two were far behind.

The new primary election in Manhattan's 19th Congressional District will be held Sept. 27 in the contest between U.S. Rep. Leonard Farberstein and City Councilman Theodore S. Weiss.

The original vote-count showed that Farberstein had beaten Weiss by 151 votes. Weiss challenged the outcome in State Supreme Court, which sustained his claim that a total of 1,153 votes had been cast.

Condition Unchanged

Miss Teri Purvis, 18, of 24 Catskill Avenue, Town of Ulster, who was injured Thursday morning when her car crashed into a rock ledge off Route 9W north of Highland, today remained in critical condition at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Billy Graham's Daughter Weds

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — Anne Morrow Graham, 19-year-old daughter of evangelist Billy Graham, was married Friday night to Dr. Daniel Milton Lotz, 29, of Chapel Hill.

The couple recited the marriage vows before the father of the bride and the father of the groom, the Rev. John Lotz of Northport, N.Y.

The bridegroom, a dentist, was a member of the 1957 NCAA championship basketball team at the University of North Carolina.

He was captain of the 1959 team and is a former Air Force dental officer.

Banker Aids Student

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Jim Donohue fingered the $100 check and explained how it was his passport to the University of Kansas.

An anonymous Wichita, Kan. banker is paying Donohue's full tuition and will send $100 a month until he graduates, providing he maintains a "B" average in grades. Up till now Donohue had worked full-time as a tavern waiter.

The banker, Donohue said, had to work his way through school and decided he'd help other students who did it too.

"If I make it," Donohue said, "I have to do the same for some other working student some day."

Elephant Aids Cop

CARRIZO, N.M. (AP) — An elephant has joined the ranks of those helping to get the U.S. mail delivered.

State policeman Powder Knoblock was trying to get a mail truck out of a ditch on U.S. 380 about 15 miles west of Carrizozo.

Seeking help, he flagged down a truck-trailer rig driven by L.R. McNeese, who told the officer, "Sure, wait until I unload my elephant."

McNeese led an elephant from his van, hitched it to the mail truck and gave the animal a few words of instruction. It then pulled the truck from the ditch.

McNeese was driving a van for Burnam Bros. circus.

Mangled to Death

HOMER, N.Y. (AP) — Marvin Smith, 13, was mangled to death Friday when his clothing caught in a baler, pulling the boy into the machine on his father's farm near this village north of Cortland.

State Police said the boy was working with a companion near the machine when the accident occurred.

THE AUBURN ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS

Living Room in the Rear Assures Greater Privacy

By JACK McELENNEY

There are two kinds of privacy built into the newest Associated Architects' house plan — "The Auburn" — privacy from one's neighbors and individual privacy.

This has been accomplished by reversing the usual relationship of kitchen and living room in a home and by isolating the bedrooms from the living quarters.

By having your living room face the back, your picture window becomes much more useful.

"The Auburn" has two linen closets, one for brooms and similar equipment, another for guests and the family's coats and a catch-all closet in the hall. To this you can add the considerable cabinet space built into the kitchen. This house certainly helps to save the cost of a basement, if that is your desire.

Other conveniences here include a second bath for the master bedroom a pass-through from garage to storage room and a center hall, to limit foot traffic to passageways, and keep it out of rooms.

There is a decided advantage to a kitchen that faces front. The homemaker maintains control of the front entrance and answers the doorbell in only a few steps. A separate kitchen door is provided for deliveries directly to the kitchen.

Plans for this home may be ordered at reasonable cost; use the accompanying coupon and indicate if you want drawings with or without basement. There are 1,760 square feet of living space here; 300 square feet of garage and storage make for a total of 2,060 square feet.

Another advantage of this plan is its conformity with Federal Housing Administration (FHA) property and construction requirements, valuable when you seek a mortgage with FHA backing. Fire safety is built in by having all electrical wiring follow the National Electrical Code.

With your order of blueprints you receive (at no extra cost) a set of specifications to help protect your investment.

USE THIS COUPON TO ORDER BLUEPRINTS "THE AUBURN"

- ☐ One set of complete working blueprints including specifications at $12.00 per set.

A NATION AT WORK

America's labor force is as vast and varied as the nation itself. Builders, bankers, ballplayers, farmers, fishermen, factory workers, miners, ministers, mailmen, policemen, politicians, presidents, salesmen, scientists, secretaries — nearly every letter of the alphabet could contribute to the long list of occupations. Together they spell the initiative and know-how with which the fabric of the nation's strength is woven. In saluting all these occupations on Labor Day, working Americans—more than 75 million strong—salute themselves.

FULL WEEK'S LISTINGS OF TV PROGRAMS — SEPT. 4 THRU SEPT. 10

Miss America Pageant Slated for September 10

DEBBIE BRYANT

NEW YORK—Is it true, according to rumors, that all Miss Americas are made of marshmallows, dripping with sugary kindness and have the brains of chocolate-covered peanuts.

If it is, the current Miss A., Debbie Bryant, is wildly deceiving.

The other day on her way to Pageland, S.C., for a watermelon festival, Debbie, 20, confessed she wasn't as soft as she looked.

She had just been to Houston where she found oil wells, dull compared to open heart surgery. Keenly interested in children (she wants someday to be a baby doctor), the honey-haired Kansas beauty was fascinated by the operation.

And although Debbie has travelled 200,000 miles since she swept the Atlantic City sweepstakes last September, she is sorry her tour was limited to this country.

"I wanted to go to Viet Nam. There must have been something I could have done to boost the soldiers' morale," she said. "It's been hard for me to understand why the Miss Americas aren't sent all around the world."

It's a slim possibility Debbie will go to Viet Nam where her father has spent the last year and a half as a civilian engineer. She barely has time to squeeze in a couple watermelon festivals before she gives up her crown Sept. 10—an event NBC-TV will telecast in color.

What does she plan to do when she "retires?"

"I'm going to the University of Kansas in the fall where I'll turn from being Miss America to a mean, old counselor of freshman girls," said Debbie.

Tough Break Through

Joey Heatherton taped a segment of The Andy Williams Show set for September 25 in which she does a dance that starts when she breaks through a pop art "carpet." Throughout a week of rehearsal, Joey was unable to break through the heavy guage paper used. So, when taping time came, everyone held his breath that Joey would make it through the paper. She did.

Lone Ranger Will Ride Again; On TV for 18 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hi-Yo, Silver, the Lone Ranger rides again — and again.

There seems to be no end to the Western travels of the masked rider, who began his battle against frontier baddies a third of a century ago on radio. He eased into the television saddle 18 years ago and can still be seen throughout the world, the series stopped filming seven years ago.

Now the Lone Ranger — a misnomer since he is usually accompanied by his redskin yes-man — is beginning a new phase. Next Saturday morning he will start appearing in cartoon form on the CBS network.

Jack Wrather, the Texas oilman who owns the Lone Ranger, previewed a couple of the cartoons in the basement of his Beverly Hills building, and they proved splashy in color and vigorous in action. The animation was especially good.

"We use twice as many drawings as other television cartoons," he explained. "We feel the audience deserves to have more realistic action instead of the semianimated films which are really cheaters."

"But I think it will be worth it," he said. "After all, the Lone Ranger is an important, presold property that has made millions over the years."

Joe Video's the Winner as Nets Stretch Their Fall Show Debuts

By DON ROYAL
NEW YORK

Once-upon-a-time, the week of Sept. 12 was mentioned as pre-view week for fall's television fare—but that was before two nets decided to jump-preview some shows this coming week.

ABC unveils 12 of 16 new offerings. NBC airs three of its 10 new shows. CBS stands on its schedule, with the first of nine new shows airing Sept. 11.

Joe Video's dialing dilemma is reduced greatly, and he'll be able to catch the new shows without developing dial-twitch. Capsuled, below, new-show information for the week ahead.

Jerry Lewis Telethon Starts Sunday, 10 P. M.

Jerry Lewis's upcoming WNEW-TV (Channel 5) Holiday Telethon on behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will start and end an hour later than originally announced.

The marathon telecast is now scheduled to start at 10 p. m. Sunday Sept. 4, and end at 5 p. m. the following day.

WNEW-TV is donating the 19 hours of air-time for the Labor Day weekend event, which will originate live from the Americana Hotel and feature the top names in show business.

WNEW-TV also announced that Joe Pyne, whose regular 11 p. m. Sunday program will be pre-empted by the Telethon, will be seen for this week only, at 11 p. m. on Saturday, Sept. 3, replacing the vacationing Alan Burke. The Burke and Pyne shows both return to their customary berths the following weekend, Sept. 10 and 11.

Big Advantage

The cast and crew of The Hawk, filming the ABC-TV series in New York, has discovered one big advantage: if you happen to set up cameras near someone celebrating, you are apt to be asked to join the celebration. While shooting a street scene on East End Avenue, one of the city's most exclusive streets, a couple in a first floor apartment was celebrating a birthday with champagne. They supplied the whole crew with champagne as part of the celebration.

Trellis Helps

No matter what the climate, roof eaves should be deep enough to shelter windows and upper walls from sun, wind and rain. Skimpy eaves can be widened with trellis extensions built by the home handyman.

KEY TO COVER SKETCH

Dale Robertson is at the throttle as Iron Horse begins its season run for ABC. ABC passengers from its other shows: Milton Berle (The Milton Berle Show), Tammy Grimes (The Tammy Grimes Show), Howard Duff (The Felony Squad), Phyllis Diller (The Pruitts of Southampton), Chill Wills (The Rounders), Judy Carne and Peter Deuel (Love on a Rooftop), Robert Lansing (The Man Who Never Was), James Darren (Time Tunnel), Burt Reynolds (Hawk), Chris George (Rat Patrol), Marlo Thomas (That Girl), Michael Anderson Jr., Barbara Hershey (The Monroes), Van Williams and Bruce Lee (The Green Hornet).

shows, all of them on Thursday evening, and all in color: Tarzan (Thursday, this week only 7:30-8:30. Thereafter, Friday evenings, same time period). Who needs an explanation of Tarzan? Ron Ely is the fifteenth performer to play Tarzan since he first stepped from the pages of the Edgar Rice Burroughs stories. Jungle filming was done in Brazil, though the locale is Africa.

Star Trek (Thursday, 8:30-9:30). Science fiction. William Shatner stars as Captain James Kirk of a cruiser-size interstellar craft. Leonard Nimoy-costars as the son of an Earth woman and a native of the planet Vulcanis. The room for stories is as vast as space itself.

The Hero (9:30-10). Play-within-a-play. As "Jed Clayton—U.S. Marshal," Sam Garret is a hero to millions in his own television series. To his family he's an ordinary man, beset with Everyman's fears and frustrations. The conflict between real and reel life sparks the plot. Richard Mulligan stars as Sam Garret, Mariette Hartley plays his wife, Ruth.

Unsafe Drivers Dealt With on WNEW-TV Show

"Destination Safety," a nerve-shocking documentary, filmed in color, will be aired on WNEW-TV (Channel 5) Tuesday night, September 6 from 10:00-11:00 p. m.

The special program, first of its kind ever done for television, deals with what President Lyndon B. Johnson has called the "gravest" domestic problem facing the nation today: the annual carnage piled up on our highways by unsafe drivers, unsafe roads and old, unsafe cars.

Filed by Television Academy Awardwinner, David L. Wolper, "Destination Safety" will be aired in its entirety on Channel 5, with no commercial interruptions of any kind, and is being presented on the station as a public service by the General Motors Corporation.

According to producer David Wolper, the special program "can very well save the life of any one who sees it. It deals with every aspect of the driver and his driving, the car and its behavior, the highway and its pitfalls. It also demonstrates a specially designed safety rail which will keep a car, even one going 60 miles per hour, from going off the road should the driver fall asleep."

Filed in Boston, New York, Washington, Detroit, Chicago, Miami and Los Angeles under executive producer Alan Landsberg, "Destination Safety" is narrated by veteran radio and TV announcer, Kenneth Banghart.

Abandoned Plan

Another time The Hawk stopped traffic when it didn't mean to. They were filming a scene in a Rolls-Royce as it moved through city streets. In order to pick up dialogue, two sound men were tied in the trunk of the car, with their equipment. Reactions to this sight were so many—and so loud—the plan had to be abandoned.

His School Is The World

HOLLYWOOD — Television's most successful series producer and creator admitted today that he's still learning his trade.

The man is Sheldon Leonard, who could boast about his phenomenal success as director-producer of The Danny Thomas Show, as executive producer of The Andy Griffith Show, Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., The Dick Van Dyke Show and producer-creator of I Spy.

Instead, he says: "Slowly, piece by piece, you learn this business. I'm still learning, learning to adapt. When Hollywood motion picture makers lost their ability to adapt they lost their strength. They taught me a lesson."

In rare admission from a TV producer, Leonard revealed how he can now afford to send his I Spy stars Bill Cosby and Robert Culp and a crew of 25 on extensive European locations for the new fall shows.

The answer, he said, was "in finding the right personnel and the right equipment—in designing new filming equipment, finding new ways to use standard equipment—in adapting to the medium."

He explained that four years ago when he directed and filmed several Danny Thomas shows in Europe with old standard Hollywood equipment the company could make only two major location moves in an summer, on the I Spy location in Europe, the company made from 8 to 10 location moves daily.

Lighter, faster equipment developed by Leonard and his technicians made this possible. He replaced heavy "movie" generators with a small type used in the Boeing 707 aircraft, introduced sensitive directional microphones for sound recording, and replaced the huge heavy "movie" camera with lightweight newsreel-type cameras. Adapting to the medium, he also changed Hollywood's old film standards.

"We were using film slower than I could buy for my 8-mm home movie camera until we discovered we could adapt much faster film to our needs."

The result, of course, has cut down filming costs to the point where Leonard now sees a future boom in location shooting "which will make the world our stage."

"Location filming once cost $4,000 per screen minute. For our Hong Kong locations two years ago we cut this to $3,000 per minute. For our location in Mexico, it dropped to $2,200 per minute. This year, in Europe, we cut the cost to $1,700 per minute."

"And," he smiled, "we're still learning, adapting to obtain even more quality."

TV Scout Reports

The difference between The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. and The Man From U.N.C.L.E., according to Michael Ansara who has appeared in each show, is that The Girl is being played as High Camp. Ansara told TV Scout instructions were given to play The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. like Batman.

Jim Nabors recently threw a dinner party for his old friend Ernie Ford. The menu consisted of catfish, black-eyed peas, okra, corn bread, buttermilk and collard greens, with all the ingredients flown to Hollywood from Bristol, Ky., Ernie's home town.

William Smith, who is a regular on Laredo, once appeared in a Wagon Train episode with Andrew Prine, now a regular on The Road West.

All those shows are filmed at Universal, the home of the studio tour. Smith recalls that, as one of the tour trams came by, he and Prine rushed out, looked at a pretty girl and pretended to recognize her as an actress. "We kept saying, 'Isn't that what's-her-name?' until the poor girl was so embarrassed," Smith said.

Stefanie Powers, who is The Girl From U.N.C.L.E., says she will not use judo or karate chops in her role.

"I'm going to be feminine and hopefully do with intelligence and chicanery what others have to do with judo and karate," she said.

She won't be entirely weaponless however. She will be armed, at various times, with a gun that shoots tranquilizers, a perfume atomizer that sprays lethal gas and earrings and charm bracelets that explode.

That poor Paul Bryan on Run for Your Life. Not only is the role (played by Ben Gazzara) terminally ill, but he is also a "psychosomatic amnesiac." That is what his doctors will determine in the first show of the new season, after he fails to recognize a former fiancée, played by Carol Lawrence.

Carol is due to appear in several episodes, but Gazzara will never recognize her.

Tony Bennett, John Kerr and Billy Daniels are among stars appearing in cameo roles in the season premiere of the series.

Beef Bones

While Imogene Coca was being outfitted for the animal skin costume she wears as a cave woman in CBS-TV's It's About Time, she heard the wardrobe woman say, "I guess you had better boil some more chickens." "You're having guests for dinner?" Imogene asked. The wardrobe woman laughed and explained that she was boiling chickens and bleaching their bones to use as jewelry for cast members. Imogene's jewelry turned out to be beef bones. "I don't know who is wearing the chicken bones," Imogene told TV Scout, "but I figure beef bones are some kind of status symbol."

Smith, Hemion Think Young

GARY SMITH and DWIGHT HEMION

HOLLYWOOD—"We don't believe in television as a stepping stone into motion pictures. We believe in television period."

Young (31) Emmy winner Gary Smith was talking in behalf of himself, his partner Dwight Hemion, 40, also an Emmy winner, and their Yorkshire Productions.

Gary laughs about Hemion's age. "I don't mind working with an old man. He thinks young."

Their Yorkshire Productions was just formed not only because they believe in television but also because they believe live one-hour specials are TV's only weapon to combat situation comedy, serialized agony and the fast-dropping supply of old movies.

For openers you will be reading the Yorkshire Production credit on Class of '67, a big comedy variety show special on NBC-TV September 10.

The show, the first Smith-Hemion Yorkshire production, stars Nancy Sinatra, Don Adams, George Hamilton and a number of other young talents. The following month, on ABC-TV on Oct. 26, Tony Bennett stars in a special created by the pair and on which they used a novel innovation.

Realizing that a singer like Tony "needs the freedom to roam to make audience contact," they spent $70,000 building a set which features a series of runways and audience islands.

Then they put the audience in swivel chairs so they could follow Tony wherever he roamed.

"That's our forte," explains Gary, "we are deeply concerned with the visual aspect of our shows, we strive for a different look and style."

Smith and Hemion discovered that "creatively we think alike" six years ago when Hemion was the director and Smith the art director of The Perry Como Show.

They worked for three years as a team with Perry, then separated for solo assignments spotlighted by the 22 Judy Garland shows Gary produced and Hemion's directing of the first Frank Sinatra and Barbra Streisand specials.

As Judy's art director who graduated to become her producer, Gary will only say: "I learned how to face every possible problem."

While they strive for a different look and style on the specials they plan — one will be a Christmas show for Lorne Greene on NBC — Gary says that they shy away from overproduction.

"The performer is the star, not the producers," he says.

Produced Cast Iron

The Chinese were the first to produce objects made of cast iron. Cast-iron objects have been found there which date back to 513 B.C., according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

For WTEN-10

Two sneak previews; an intimate and startling portrait of narcotics addiction; an a humorous probe of America's automotive instincts are on tap for the Northeast viewers consideration in upcoming weeks on WTEN/10.

On Tuesday, Sept. 6, 10 to 11 p. m., WTEN/10 presents a special of an entirely different nature. "Storm Signal" takes the living camera into the lives of three people afflicted with drug addiction, a young man named Jim, his wife Helen, and their three-year-old son.

"Storm Signal" professes no message and screams no pleas, rather it relates with dramatic clarity and compassion the existence of tragedy. This hour long special is not a play or a dramatization, Jim and Helen are real live people who were filmed as they went about their daily endeavors, supporting themselves and a $60 a day drug habit. This outstanding broadcast won first prize at the Venice Film Festival.

Humor is the keynote of CBS's first new season special, a delightful sixty minute investigation of "The Wonderful World of Wheels," to be televised Thursday Sept. 8 at 7:30 in color on WTEN/10.

Lloyd Bridges hosts and narrates this free-wheeling show, that takes the viewer where all the action is on wheels; from suburbia to the Indianapolis Speedway, with many a humorous detour along the way. Enroute viewers will meet some of their favorite stars in and on their favorite go-go machines. Fabian in a go-kart, Bob Fuller on a motorcycle, James Barry in a Cobra and Sean Connery in what else but James Bond's 007 mobile.

Moore Recognized

Garry Moore is used to being accosted in the street by people who recognize him. So one time, when a man poked Garry in the ribs and said something, Garry replied, "You bet, buddy." "I was about to walk on," said the CBS-TV star who will be back with a new series in September, when I realized he had a gun in my ribs and what he said was 'Stick 'em up.' At the same time, he recognized me and we stared at each other in amazement. Then we both ran."

Stars to Appear On Griffin Show

Merv's guests Tuesday, Sept. 13: Arlene Dahl and Alexis Lichine, Donna Jean Young, Reni Santoni, Carmel Quinn, Pat Marand, Arthur Treacher, and Mort Lindsey with the Merv Griffin Orchestra.

ARLENE DAHL: The beautiful actress is joined by her husband, famed wine merchant Alexis Lichine. He tells Merv of the differences in wines and gives his candid opinion on Italian and American wines. Arlene tells about her syndicated beauty show for women and proclaims "There is no such thing as a plain woman."

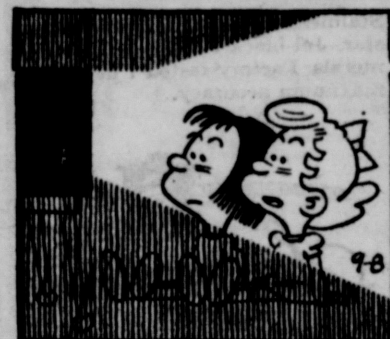

DONNA JEAN YOUNG: This bright young comedienne who was first discovered on Merv's show reminisces about her childhood friend Harold Tubbs who used to like to play doctor. "He was arrested the other day . . . for playing doctor," she adds. She and Merv team up to do a hilarious version of "School Days."

RENI SANTONI: The comic who got his start in The Merv Griffin Show has just returned from filming the movie version of "Enter Laughing" in which he stars, a role he got from being seen on the show. Reni discusses the film and then portrays his classic character, Senor Who . . . the gorilla fighter.

CARMEL QUINN: The Irish singer tells how she was discovered by Arthur Godfrey while she was trying to audition for him as a sexy singer. "For me," she explains, "it takes hours to try to be sexy . . . and then I have no guarantee that it will happen." She sings "Bye Bye Blackbird."

MUSICAL HIGHLIGHTS: Pat Marand sings "In My Solitude" and "This Is My Beloved." THE MERV GRIFFIN SHOW is seen from 9:30 to 11 a. m. daily over WAST-TV, Channel 13.

TV Questions & Answers

WACKY DISTRIBUTION — You said The Wackiest Ship in the Army, which is going off the air this summer, has been sold for syndication. Just what does that mean? — Terry Baker, Miami, Fla.
It means local stations may purchase the series and show re-runs of its episodes.

SWINGING MATE—Did Maureen O'Hara ever play Jane in Tarzan? — Diane Slaughter, Burnsville, Minn.
No, but Maureen O'Sullivan (Mia Farrow's mother) was Jane in the Tarzan movies, starring Johnny Weissmuller, in the 30s. The new NBC-TV series, starring Ron Ely, won't have a Jane.

TYPE CASTING — What is Chris Jones going to do now that The Legend of Jesse James is going off the air? — Patsy Brown, San Antonio, Tex.
He will make his motion picture debut in "Chubasco", a Warner Bros. epic about a tuna hunt. Chris will play an unruly, embittered juvenile.

TOO MUCH JUSTICE—I find it silly and unreal that justice always wins on television in shows like The Man From U.N.C.L.E., The Wild, Wild West and Combat. Do the censors make sure the "good guys" always beat the "bad guys." — J.W.C., Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Although the Federal Communication Commission issues licenses for stations it does not censor shows. This is left up to the stations, networks and sponsors. In some of the more adult programs, like The Defenders, the "bad guys" sometimes won.

TV COUPLES—Is June Lockhart of Lost in Space married to Bob Crane of Hogan's Heroes? — Mrs. W. G., East Hartford, Conn.

No. The actress is married to John Lindsay, an architect-banker. They have two daughters—Anne, 12, and June, 10. Bob's wife is Anne. They are parents of Bobby, 15, Debby, 7, and Karen, 5.

ILLYA'S BACKGROUND — What nationality is David McCallum? What is the nationality of the character he plays on The Man From U.N.C.L.E.? — Viewer, Forest Grove, Ore.

David was born in Scotland. His U.N.C.L.E. character, Illya Kuraykin is a native of Russia.

WORKING WIFE—Will David McCallum's wife Jill Ireland appear with him on The Man From U.N.C.L.E. now that she has filed for divorce?

—U.N.C.L.E. Fan, Fort Wayne, Ind.

It's doubtful. Jill now has her own series. She is featured on Shane, a new ABC-TV western series, which will debut Sept. 10.

NEWSMAN FAN—Please tell me something about Peter Jennings, the ABC-TV news correspondent.

—C. D., Indio, Calif.

Peter is a native of Toronto and once was active with the Canadian Television Network before he joined ABC in New York in 1964. He is 29, is 6 feet 2 and has brown hair, brown eyes and a wife.

BROTHERLY LOVE — On Lost in Space are Don and Judy

STATION BREAK

"I know a potato who posed for a TV dinner package cover—and he's made a fortune just off the residuals!"

brother and sister?—Lost Viewer, St. Paul, Minn.

No. They are sweethearts. The roles are played by Mark Goddard and Maria Kristen.

FLYING ACTOR—Does Paul Burke of 12 O'Clock High really know how to fly a plane? Or is his flying on the show all camera tricks?—Jessie J., St. Paul, Minn.

The actor recently learned to fly and to make parachute jumps. But he doesn't pilot the World War II bombers on the ABC-TV series.

WORKING TONSILS—Does Mitch Miller really sing?—Mrs. Charles Zanto, Ft. Benton, Mont. He thinks he does.

END OF RUN—Why was The Avengers taken off the air? Will it be back? A. B. Seigler, Miami, Fla.

The English-produced series failed to find a large enough audience to merit a longer run here.

MONKEE FAN—Please tell me about David Jones. I think he is a doll.—Dianne King, Miami, Fla.

David is one of the stars of the new pop music series, "The Monkees," which will debut over NBC-TV this fall. A native of Manchester, England, he is 20. Once an apprentice jockey at England's Newmarket Race-track, the tiny singer (he is only 5 foot 3) was featured on Broadway in the musicals, "Oliver" and "Pickwick." Write him at NBC-TV, Burbank, Calif.

ADMIRAL'S BRIDE—Is Richard Basehart married?—Barbie, Abilene, Tex.

Yes. The actor, who plays Admiral Nelson on ABC-TV's The Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, lives with his wife, Diane, in Beverly Hills, Calif.

MARRYING KIND—Are all the cast members on The Dick Van Dyke Show married?

Grandma, Cape Girardeau, Mo. All except Rose Marie, who is a widow, and Richard Deacon are married.

Select the Right Paint

There is a "right" paint for every surface. The paint industry produces specific coatings for specific surfaces. For best results, always consult your local, reputable paint dealer or painting contractor to be sure you select the right product for the surface you wish to paint. There is no such thing as an "all purpose" paint.

TV Shorts

So far this season, NBC's biggest problems with Roger Miller has been the "effort to keep that wonderful character alive and awake;" one man close to the scene reports.

Miller, who goes days at a time without sleep, is inclined to nod off during interviews, which is not the best way to get a good press. There is even a story going around that at one recent interview Miller kept getting sleepier and sleepier until he finally slid completely beneath the table.

When he is awake Miller comes up with some gems. Sample conversation:

Roger Miller: I'd like to get some new ideas into my show, but no one will listen to me.

Friend: What kind of new ideas, Roger?

Roger Miller: Well, maybe some clips from Mister Ed.

No one will ever accuse Phyllis Diller of thinking small. She has set aside an acre on the estate she has recently bought to build a 30 x 60 swimming pool which she is also designing (shaped like her hairdo maybe?). She is financing the pool with money she has earned from her appearances on Bob Hope Presents the Chrysler Theater.

Missed the Express — Why hasn't the original version of the film "Stagecoach" ever been shown on television?—Greg Lyman, Portland, Ore.

It has. The John Ford western, starring John Wayne and Claire Trevor, has been in general release for several years. Check your local station.

CHINA IN ARMS

Its chief, Defense Minister Lin Biao, now stands second only to Mao Tse-tung in Red China's hierarchy. Along thousands of border miles, it stands in battle array and, Peking warns, "fully prepared for any eventuality." It is guided by Mao's dictum that "man, not weapons" determines ultimate victory. Here are glimpses, from official sources, of the force whose ominous shadow falls across much of Asia—Viet Nam, India, the Soviet Union—the men and weapons of China's three-million-man People's Liberation Army.

Short of mechanized equipment, the PLA turns to manpower to move equipment through mud and drenching rain.

Pilots in training rush to their Mig jets. Chilled relations with the Soviet Union have deprived Red China of the latest models.

The bugle, well-remembered from the Korean war, is ever present, even during a training operation river crossing.

A human flood, army units march through the streets of Sian, in Shensi province, to rally support for the Communist cause in Viet Nam.

An anti-aircraft unit fills the night sky with flame. Quality and quantity of Red Chinese air defense equipment remains a question.

CHANNEL CHATTER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In this land of make believe and magic it is easy for the visitor to become confused about where reality leaves off and play-acting begins. The alternative is to conclude that everything here is like those streets in the studio back lots where there is nothing but air behind the impressive facades of the houses.

Take, for example, the matter of money in Hollywood. After a few weeks spent listening to casual talk of large sums, it almost seems that there are two classes of greenbacks. There are the kind that most of us work for, and there are the kinds that are shoveled but so generously to these talented creatures in the entertainment capital.

$60,000 Not Hay

"I didn't really want to work in Vegas," a well-known but not really top-drawer singing star told this reporter casually. "It just didn't seem right, though, to turn down $60,000 for just two weeks work."

"Sure it's a nice house on a good Beverly Hills street," said the wife of a theatrical agent modestly. "But it needed some paint and repairs, so we were able to pick it up for only $200,000."

It has been widely circulated in the trade that the "Bonanza" stars, under contracts signed last year, receive $10,000 per episode, which is more than many families make in a year. In a normal season this could add up to some $300,000 per hero — not counting, of course, extra loots from guest shots on other shows, royalties on records and the rewards for appearances at state fairs and rodeos.

Headlined Story

One of the trade papers recently headlined a story about a general cutback in top prices paid guest-stars in TV series. It appears the supply of available actors exceeds the demand.

Take-home-pay of most stars is almost impossible to estimate. Most of them operate amid a welter of companies and corporations supervised by tax lawyers. It is known, however, that one star of a series that was canceled after a short run still managed to total an income well over $150,000 in the period.

It was recently estimated by a trade paper that a number of big TV personalities, including Sullivan, Lucille Ball, Garry Moore and Bob Hope actually hit close to the million-dollar mark most years.

"I'll stick my neck out and say there's a 56-44 chance of rain, a 37-63 chance of partial overcast and a 79-21 chance the temperature will range from 52° to 78°."

Ask TV Scout

Mike Mazurski, the former wrestler and boxer who has a running role in "It's About Time," a new CBS-TV series, has—as is proper in his case—a pair of cauliflower ears. Joe E. Ross, also a regular in the series, asked Mazurski if he got the ears from boxing or wrestling. "Neither," Mazurski said. "I got them from telephones, calling my agent for work."

Collins Own Boss

Gary Collins, who moved from The Wackiest Ship in the Army to the new ABC-TV series Iron Horse, said that after his first series went on the air he got several calls from managers and publicists who wanted to handle him. But he refused them all. "If what I have to offer doesn't come out on the screen, then I have no business being there."

Missing Penny

Why has Rosemary Printz, Penny Wade of As the World Turns, been off the daytime soap opera so long? — Mrs. Charles Boudier, Waynesboro, Pa.

The actress took a leave so she could perform in summer stock plays. She is currently touring the country, but will return to the CBS-TV series in the near future.

Miss Cardinale Says American Men at 40 are OK

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There is a difference between men over 40 in America and in Europe, says Claudia Cardinale, and she adds: Viva la difference.

Latest of the Italian sex-queens to invade Hollywood, she admits to being little known to the American audience while being a top favorite in Italy. The situation may well be reversed if she keeps talking the way she did at her rented Roman villa off Coldwater Canyon.

Interesting Dress

Miss Cardinale was reclining beside the swimming pool. She was outfitted in a hostess gown that extended to her ankles but was distractingly deficient in the top-front.

She was enjoying a rare day off from her current film with Tony Curtis. "Don't Make Waves," and she volunteered some comparisons on American men vs. Europeans particularly the Italians.

"When a man reaches 40 in Italy, he is virtually finished," she remarked fearlessly. "His youth is gone, and he starts falling into old age."

"But in America, it is different. Here, a man who passes 40 is still youthful. His interests and attitudes remain young, and therefore he looks young."

Diet Helps

Why is this so? She agreed that America places greater emphasis on the glories of youth. The diet seems to favor Americans as well, the more varied meals being easier on the figure than the Italians' pasta—"though you have plenty of fat people in this country, too."

"That is important," she insisted. "The American man continues to take part in sports well after 40. The Italian man is also interested in sports, but he is content to watch instead of play after he has reached 40."

The same is true of the French men over 40, she remarked, although she observed they seemed more interested in the indoor sports. The English are more concerned with the outdoor sports, she added, but less so than the Americans.
